

Candidates balk at Democratic assessments

Should the Madison County Democratic party build up a "war chest" of more than $75,000 to finance the 1982 campaigning?

Some of the candidates being assessed large sums—to help meet precinct committeemen's costs and other campaign expenses—think such a big treasury is unnecessary and are balking at making requested "contributions" of up to $10,000.

Sheriff Emil Toffant, seeking reelection and endorsed by the county Democrats' central committee, has declined to donate $7,500—or anything at all—to the campaign coffers.

Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick regards the $10,000 proposed to him as excessive and plans to give a more "reasonable" sum.

The primary election will be held March 16 and the general election will be conducted Nov. 2. Although few Republicans are running in the primary, that party may fill most of the November ballot spots through March write-in votes or other procedures.

An unofficial tally of the amounts said to be sought by the party includes: —$10,000 each from four unopposed circuit judge candidates.

—$8,000 from unopposed Regional School Superintendent Gene Briggs. —$7,500 each from unopposed Sheriff Toffant and from Fred Painter, who has been endorsed for county treasurer over the incumbent who is seeking reelection.

—$3,500 each from unopposed State Rep. Jim McPike and from State Sen. Sam Vadalabene and State Rep. Sam Wolf, both facing opposition.

Toffant, elected in 1978 without the organization's support, says he does not intend to pay the $7,500 but that he has agreed to support the party slate.

The sheriff plans to handle his own campaign and says he does not expect any financial support from the party. He adds, "Maybe I'm new to politics, but I didn't expect that request. It came as a real surprise to me."

"I don't sell my services to anyone. And I don't believe I have to buy the right to perform those services."

Judge Rarick says he and other judicial candidates met with party representatives. Rarick remarks that "it was not a matter of coercion. I plan to make a contribution in an amount I feel would be fair."

"It's obvious to everyone that a campaign costs money. I'll make a contribution but it will be less than $10,000."

Circuit Judges Charles Chapman and George Moran Jr. are among those who have decided not to pay $10,000. Judge Chapman says, "I will give them $2,500 in the near future but I have made no commitment to pay them the full $10,000 at any time."

Chapman says he contributed $10,000 when he ran for circuit judge previously, and that he supports the concept.

"If you are running as an endorsed candidate, you have a certain obligation to the party. The system just won't work without proper financing, and I believe it is more efficient to go through the party."

Rep. McPike plans to contribute (Continued on Page 8)

GC job office to remain open

By BILL WINTER of the Press-Record

There is joy at the Job Service Center, 7 American Village Shopping Center, where it appears that the office will remain open indefinitely, avoiding forcing Quad-Cityans to drive to other communities for employment referrals.

But there is dismay at the Work Incentive Program (WIN) office, 25 Namecki Village Shopping Center, where a decision to close that facility at the end of this month remains in effect. WIN helps families on public aid find work.

The present outlook was assailed this week by Steve Cullen, Illinois executive director of AFSCME (the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO).

"The bipartisan agreement reached in Congress Feb. 1, with President Reagan's support, provides for emergency action to restore funding for the Illinois Job Service. This will avert 22 office closings and 500 layoffs," Cullen said.

"However, this agreement fails to give any increased support for the soon-to-be-crippled WIN program, which provides job training, support services and job placement for welfare recipients under Title 4C of the Social Security Act."

"The Illinois Work Incentive Program is to be cut by two-thirds, with 11 office closings and 300 layoffs, effective Feb. 28," Cullen pointed out.

He added, "This severe reduction results from huge cuts in federal funding which were proposed by the president and enacted by Congress as part of December's continuing budget resolution.

"The WIN cutback is penny wise and pound foolish. Eliminating this program will increase, not decrease, welfare expenditures."

"Last year in Illinois, the WIN program trained and placed 15,338

But WIN staff will be laid off welfare recipients in jobs at a program cost of about $17 million; the saving to the government in welfare payments alone was over $10 million and that does not include savings in food stamps and Medicaid."

"WIN is doing exactly what needs to be done with welfare recipients to help them get off of the public assistance rolls."

"Through WIN, they receive job training, help in lining up day care, counseling, and job placement. Companies employing workers through WIN get a small tax break as an incentive."

"I don't understand the logic of cutting out a program that is saving the taxpayers' money and that is accomplishing the difficult and important work of helping those on welfare to get into the work force."

He said AFSCME is continuing its effort to convince Congress to "undo this damage and immediately appropriate the modest amount of money necessary to keep Work Incentive functioning effectively."

Dorothy Williams, manager of the Job Service Center in Granite City, told the Press-Record Wednesday that she agrees with his viewpoint that the WIN office also is needed here.

"There is no way our Job Service office could make up for the loss of the WIN program or substitute for it. Both offices are essential."

She said she has received no official directive either to close or continue the Job Service office, which has a staff of 14, but believes the national compromise that was reached will enable it to stay open.

When it appeared in January that the job center would have to be discontinued, it seemed possible that local residents would have found it necessary to instead travel to such cities as Alton, East St. Louis or Belleville to contact the Job Service.

Although the Unemployment Insurance Division in Granite City is scheduled to remain open, persons must register and regularly visit a job

Seek tips in fatal shooting

Venice police are asking assistance from the public in connection with their investigation into the fatal shooting of Thomas Bilbrey, 19, of 515 Filmore St., Venice. Mr. Bilbrey died at 7:15 a.m. yesterday at Firms DeLoe Hospital, St. Louis.

Young Mr. Bilbrey was found shot while seated in his auto that was found parked in the middle of Seventh Street, between Broadway and Lincoln, in Venice, at 1:40 p.m. Sunday.

Venice Chief of Police Farris Smith is asking for any information that may help determine the victim's whereabouts for any length of time between 11 a.m. and 1:40 p.m. Sunday; anyone with an idea as to the motive for the shooting, or any helpful information, such as witnessing another person or persons or vehicle in the area about the time of the shooting.

Chief Smith said all information will be held in the strictest confidence and should be given to Venice Officers Ron Brawley, Earl Reed or himself.

Persons may call them at 877-2114 at any time, day or night, Chief Smith added.

A man who was questioned by Venice police a short time after the shooting has been released and police say other persons are being sought for questioning.

Additional details on Mr. Bilbrey appear in today's obituary column.

COLLAPSED. Monday night's moderate snowfall tipped the balance, causing the roof of a storehouse at United Nesco Container Co., 1801 Benton St., to collapse. As the roof caved in, it disrupted a natural gas line, shown in the background bent to the ground, knocked an electrical box off the wall, which ignited the gas to start the fire. An employee is shown working on the electrical box that was attached to the wall. Granite City firefighters were at the scene from 7:45 to 9:30 p.m. and they estimated the damage to the building between $3,000 and $5,000. There were no injuries.

Lincoln's final journey was a long and sad one

By FRED TETREAULT

(Reprinted from "Outdoor Highlights," a publication of the Illinois Department of Conservation.)

On Feb. 12 each year, the nation celebrates the birth of Lincoln the man; his slow train ride back to Springfield marked the birth of Lincoln the Legend.

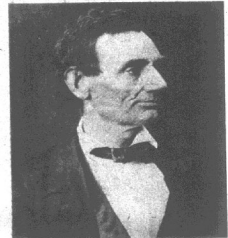

"Men wandered about in silence, or stood in groups and talked of the horrid crime and its probable effect on the country. Many were the expressions of sorrow for the martyred president, and from none were these more heart-felt than the many Quakers who reside in that city and vicinity. Some business houses and private residences were draped in mourning. Thus the day wore away, and from the beginning to the close, sadness and gloom were depicted on every countenance." (John Carroll Power).

With this paragraph, author Power—in his 1874 book "Abraham Lincoln: His Life, Public Services, Death and Great Funeral Cortège"—succinctly described the scene on the streets of Washington, D.C., on April 15, 1865, the day after President Lincoln was shot by an assassin and the day he died from that attack.

But, when the sad tidings of Lincoln's death were telegraphed throughout the nation that morning, there was no place where the word fell with such crushing weight as in Springfield, Ill., where his trials and triumphs were known personally to all. Only five days earlier, he had realized one of his greatest triumphs when General Lee surrendered to the Union's General Grant at Appomattox Courthouse.

Now, the people of Springfield knew their friend, neighbor, brother and (Continued on Page 8)

A timely invention—an ice melter

By VALERIE EVENEDEN of the Press-Record

If you are among the thousands of area motorists who have shoveled, pushed, rocked and despaired about moving a stuck vehicle in the aftermath of the recent record-breaking snowstorms, you may appreciate a new concept unveiled this week by Granite City inventor Donald E. Caughron.

The premise on which the Emergency Snow and Ice Melter is based, simply stated, involves the redirection of hot exhaust gases to around the tires, beneath the vehicle.

The invention is the brainchild of Caughron and John J. Ballentine, also of Granite City. Both men worked on the original idea and came up with a working model, which has been documented, researched and submitted for patent rights. A 10-part preliminary market analysis and product development study also has been prepared by a St. Louis corporation.

As discovered by most of us in the past 12 days, ice, sleet and snow present real driving hazards to the motorist and the danger seldom evaporates quickly.

When even moderate snow cover is removed, ice-encrusted pavement frequently is lurking underneath on which wheels skid, slip and slide without traction.

Unfortunately, area residents have found out first-hand that snow and ice buildup can immobilize transportation systems, whether they use automobiles, buses or trucks. Even four-wheel drive vehicles, which performed heroic service in the recent snowstorms, initially were ineffective, until their owners hacked them out of icy, snow-layered driveways or parking spots.

Unless a motorist carries bags of rock salt or cinders to help melt ice, he may find himself really stuck and stranded in bitter cold for long periods of time, Caughron said.

The concept being introduced by the local co-inventors will prove an alternative method of dealing with these problems, it was noted.

The Emergency Snow and Ice Melter is designed to fit on a car's undercarriage and redirect the hot exhaust gases to the rear wheels to melt the snow or ice that has accumulated.

Adaptable for single or dual exhaust cars, the melter will have a dash mounted throttle cable to permit the driver to open and close the unit at will, Caughron explained.

Expected to be marketed as a kit, the unit will include five specific parts—flexible tubing, a special

Church Women United plan Feb. 23 forum luncheon

Mrs. Marie Gordon, Forum Chairman, has announced that Church Women United will hold an all-day luncheon meeting at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, Wednesday, Feb. 24. Forum Part II, "A Winter Workshop," will be given by members of the SEMC Social Work Department. The day will open with a registration-coffee at 10 a.m., followed by an overview of various services available through the Social Work Department. Some of the areas to be covered will be ARCH (Alcoholic Rehabilitation Community House), Mobile Meals, Stroke Rehabilitation, Oncology, and Psychiatric Counseling.

Following the luncheon there will be a Stress Relief Workshop, given by Social Work Department Director, Ralph Hausmann, and three members of her staff. The Stress Relief Workshop has been one of the most successful of SEMC's community seminars. The program helps individuals to recognize life's stressful situations and deal with them more effectively. According to Mrs. Hausmann, "we cannot eliminate stress from our lives, but we can learn to cope with it and even use it to our advantage." Women from all area churches are invited to attend the Forum to be held in the lower level of the Center's Kettler Building. The program runs from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The cost for the day is $3.50 which includes the luncheon. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Marie Gordon at 452-1133; Mrs. Nona Corzilius at 876-9414 or 877-4470; or the SEMC Public Relations Department at 798-3498 by Friday, Feb. 19. Reservations are limited to 120.

IRAs offer good opportunities

You've been watching the advertisements. Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs) look like a good deal. The tax-deferred savings accounts let you put something aside for the time when you won't be working any more; let you make some money on your investment; and make the Internal Revenue Service wait to collect income taxes on part of your current earnings.

When the IRS finally does get its shot at the money—after you've retired—changes are you won't owe as much as if you paid the taxes now. That's because you'll be in a lower bracket, and also can use accounting techniques such as income averaging to ease the tax burden.

A major restriction on IRAs is that once you've deposited money into the account (up to $2,000 annually) you can't get it out before you reach age 59-and-a-half—not without paying some penalties.

The IRS also frowns on putting more than the $2,000 maximum into an IRA each year. There are penalties to cover that, too, but there are ways to make up for accidental over-deposits. You must start withdrawing from the account by the time you're 70-and-a-half or get hit with yet another set of penalties.

In Basi's view, penalties for withdrawing money from the account before it matures (so-called premature distribution) aren't so severe that they'd be overwhelming if you needed the cash to cover yourself in a financial emergency.

Essentially, money withdrawn prematurely is treated as income: you have to pay regular income taxes and a penalty tax on the amount you withdraw. Basi says you also run a risk under some circumstances of having the whole account declared ineligible for tax-deferred treatment.

But, he says, neither the risks nor the penalty are so harsh that people who have IRAs should hesitate to take money out if the emergency is severe enough—especially in circumstance when your regular income dries up. However, the funds may be withdrawn without penalty in case of death or disability.

But, Basi says, while the money is in an IRA, the possible combinations of investment techniques are almost endless.

You can move your account from one institution to another to get a better interest rate. If you want to make a better return on your savings investment than the interest offered by banks, savings and loan associations and similar institutions, you can put it into stocks, bonds or insurance companies' annuities, either by investing it yourself through a broker or by using mutual funds or other trust account arrangements.

You can even use your IRA as a "conduit" to move money from one pension plan to another without penalty if you change jobs, Basi said.

One investment caution: you can't use IRA contributions to buy up such "investments" as precious metals, artwork or so-called collectibles without jeopardizing the account's tax-deferred status.

Channel 5 plans crime interviews

Inside Story, the PBS series examining pre-performance, will feature interviews with David Lipman, managing editor of The St. Louis Post-Dispatch, and Sandra Popper, retired Post reader's advocate, on Friday, Feb. 12 at 8:30 p.m. on KFTC-Channel 5. The program, titled "Second Attack: Press Coverage of Crime Victims," will also contain an interview with a victim of crime living in St. Louis.

During the 30-minute program, anchorman Rodding Carter II, will investigate the moral, ethical and journalistic dilemmas involved in crime reporting. Through interviews with both victims and editors, Carter will focus on the delicate balance between the public's right to know and the repercussions of identification.

OUTSTANDING UNIT AWARD is being announced this week to improve the quality of the programs of the Boy Scouts of America. In addition, the "Red Breaker" unit organization program also was announced this week by the local Scouting officials.

New Scout programs started

With Feb. 7 through Feb. 13 being National Boy Scout Week, two new programs of emphasis were announced this week by Scout Executive William Monick.

One program is to improve the quality of existing Cub Scout packs, Boy Scout troops or Explorer posts, and the other is for volunteer leaders organizing new units within the council. The Cahokia Mound Council includes the southern half of Madison and Bond counties.

A "Red Breaker" jacket will be awarded to any volunteer who organizes a new unit before Dec. 31, 1982. The bright red windbreaker will have the district name and, in the Quad-Cities, the words "Unit District on the back."

The annual Scouter Recognition Dinner held Saturday, six persons in the Quad-City area committed themselves to the organizing of new Scouting units here.

The "Outstanding Unit" award has been created to recognize leaders and youth members of those units that are outstanding in several areas of the Scouting program, and not just membership recruiting.

Those earning the three-colored emblem may wear it centered on the right uniform pocket, and a segment will be worn on the award for each year it is earned thereafter.

Mrs. Ronald Reagan is the event's honorary patroness, and entertainer Pearl Bailey is the honorary chairman.

According to Rose, the USO is arranging for Miss America and Miss Black America contestants to visit many of the medical centers.

Professional baseball, basketball, football and hockey players, National Football League cheerleaders, Shriners clowns, airline pilots, stewardesses and ground personnel, and bunnies of Playboy International also will be among the celebrity visitors.

Camp Fire Inc. is the official youth group for the event, but Rose said that scouts and school classes also will be participating in many communities.

Tickets cost $3.75 per adult and $2 for each child under 12 will be available at the door or may be purchased from any parish member.

The meal includes spaghetti and meatballs, salad, cream bread, dessert and a beverage. Carry-outs will be available.

The dinner is prepared by the St. Mark's Women's Organization.

OFFICERS TALK MAN OUT OF GUN
Responding to a telephone call from a woman who said a man with a shotgun was threatening to shoot her and her children, Venice officers went to a North Venice dwelling and talked the man into relinquishing the weapon, a 12-gauge shotgun. No immediate charges were filed against the alleged assailant, who was escorted from the residence following the weekend incident.

Humidity helps lower home heating bills

By CHARLIE WATERS

What comes to your mind when someone mentions you probably don't need this humidity? Maybe you think of Hemingway and tropical ceiling fans. My thoughts turn to St. Louis in the summer. All the dampness of the Mid-west summer seems to gather in the Gateway City in August. Humidity, though, in winter time, can help lower your heating costs. It makes no difference if you heat with oil, electricity or gas; moisture can have a warming effect.

Added humidity in the air of the house can help prevent dry skin, squeaking floors and peeling wallpaper. The trick is to control the moisture content. Preceding the humidifiers that we use today, our ancestors put pans of water on the stoves to increase their comfort.

With the aid of a friend at my local power company, I've put together some figures to show good household humidity levels at differing temperatures. Let's start at a common setting: 40 percent humidity at 70 degrees. Your monthly heating costs can decrease up to 3 percent if you increase your humidity level to 45 percent and lower the temperature to 69 degrees.

With the thermostat set at 68 degrees and 50 percent humidity, fuel costs can be decreased as much as 8 percent. At 67 degrees and 45 percent moisture content, your monthly bill will be lower yet. All the while you are lowering the temperature, you are not sacrificing comfort, because of the warming qualities of the moisture in the air.

Venice group meets Saturday

The Peoples Organization to Benefit Children of Venice will hold its regular meeting at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Venice Recreation Center, 322 Broadway, Venice.

All adults interested in assisting with programs of benefit to Venice youth are invited to attend, according to the Rev. John Henry Williams, chairman. The group meets on the second Saturday of each month.

Plans currently are being made to sponsor an "appreciation awards" event on Sunday, March 7, at the recreation center. Mrs. Pearl Robinson, program chairman, advised.

The occasion will serve to honor individuals who have supported Venice youngsters during the past three years or more, the chairman explained.

Guest speaker at the awards event will be the Rev. Alfred Johnson, pastor of Bethel AME Church in Madison.

Donations of $3 for adults and 50 cents for children, 16 years and under, will be asked from those attending the March 7 program.

All donations will go toward aiding youngsters in the community, Rev. Williams said.

Honor hospitalized vets Valentine's Day

Sports and entertainment stars, and along with community and government leaders, will gather in Veterans' Administration medical centers on Valentine's Day, Sunday, for the ninth annual national salute to hospitalized veterans.

Special events for that day, also are being planned by veterans, civic, religious and youth groups. Festivities will include talent shows, celebrity visits, musical programs and VA benefit workshops at most of VA's 172 medical centers, 226 outpatient clinics, 96 nursing homes and 16 domiciliaries. The program will be coordinated at each medical center by VA's Voluntary Service, the organization that oversees services to some 78,000 hospital volunteers who nationally contribute more than 10 million hours to VA patients every year.

According to Edward F. Rose, VA's director of Voluntary Service, individuals or groups interested in joining the salute on Feb. 14 should contact the Voluntary Service at a nearby VA medical center. "Help is needed to build enthusiasm and a festive atmosphere, so that the misfortune of being hospitalized can be temporarily dispelled," Rose said.

The salute has been conducted each year since 1974 to show hospitalized veterans that their fellow citizens appreciate their service the country and have not forgotten them, Rose said.

Mrs. Ronald Reagan is the event's honorary patroness, and entertainer Pearl Bailey is the honorary chairman.

According to Rose, the USO is arranging for Miss America and Miss Black America contestants to visit many of the medical centers.

Professional baseball, basketball, football and hockey players, National Football League cheerleaders, Shriners clowns, airline pilots, stewardesses and ground personnel, and bunnies of Playboy International also will be among the celebrity visitors.

Camp Fire Inc. is the official youth group for the event, but Rose said that scouts and school classes also will be participating in many communities.

Home Town Award program to honor communities

Governor James R. Thompson has announced the Home Town Awards Program to honor Illinois municipalities that demonstrate extensive community involvement and contribute to the town's economic progress and quality of life.

"Citizens from communities across the state are organizing, projects that contribute to their town's economic well-being," said Thompson. "Many of these projects include coordination of local organizations in meeting community needs that otherwise might have been ignored."

"In order to recognize communities whose citizens have demonstrated extensive involvement in projects contributing to their town's economic vitality and quality of life, I have established the Home Town Awards Program," the Governor said. The Home Town Awards Program, to be conducted by the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, will recognize outstanding community projects through a statewide competition extending from Feb. 3 through April 15. Projects will be judged in late April and winners announced at an awards conference in May.

Eligible projects include any organized effort undertaken to make the community a better place to live, work and do business. Projects need not be completed, but should show evidence of a successful future completion date. If completed, projects must not have been concluded prior to January 1, 1981.

Wildlife needs help in this weather

February and March can be the roughest months for wildlife. Most of their easily available food is gone by this time. If there is deep snow or ice covering the ground, it becomes very difficult for the animals and birds to find enough food.

Putting out feed at these times is helpful, but a better way to insure wildlife survival is to provide adequate habitat.

Proper habitat for most species is a brushy edge next to a field. That brush may not look good to you, but to wildlife it's just beautiful. The brush provides protection from predators and the weather and nesting cover for some species plus some wildlife food. Crop fields and hay fields provide food plus nesting habitat for other species.

A field border of permanent vegetation that is not mowed until late in the summer is very good cover for ground-nesting birds and rabbits. A few rows of unharvested crops at the edge of the field are great for winter food as well as providing some cover. Fall plowing should be avoided because it leaves very little, if anything, for wildlife or protection of the soil.

What value does wildlife have? Maybe not too much in terms of dollars, but it is worth a great deal when it comes to sense. Some birds eat thousands of insects a day. Every wild creature has its place in the natural order of things.

The world would be vastly poorer without the wild animals we share it with. For more information on managing wildlife, you may contact the Soil Conservation Service at Route No. 1, Box 35, Edwardsville, 656-4710 or Dave Harper, Illinois Department of Conservation wildlife biologist at 34 West Broadway, Alton, 462-1181.

Corporations in state increase 15.5% in 1981

Secretary of State Jim Edgar said that the number of new business corporations registered with the Secretary of State's Corporations Department to do business in Illinois rose 15.5 percent during 1981.

"Last year 25,089 new business corporations registered in Illinois," Edgar said. "That brings the total number of business corporations registered in good standing to more than 165,000."

"During 1981 Illinois ranked fifth in the nation in the number of new business incorporations."

"In the past, an increase in the number of corporate registrations usually preceded a substantial upturn in the economy," Edgar said. "We hope that trend continues in 1982."

"Corporations registered in the state paid $43.9 million in franchise taxes during 1981," Edgar added. "Franchise tax revenue, which goes directly into the state's general revenue fund, rose 15.4 percent last year. Approximately 3,000 new not-for-profit corporations registered with the Corporations Department during 1981. There are about 44,000 not-for-profit corporations registered in Illinois.

Corporations wishing to do business in Illinois are required to register with the Corporations Department, file an annual report including a list of corporate officers and pay annual franchise taxes.

"This information is all public record," Edgar said.

"In 1981 the Corporations Department handled more than 725,000 public inquiries for information about corporations or corporate officers. The department received an average 2,942 inquiries a day, an increase of 16 percent over 1980."

State dinner to honor FDR birth

Governor James R. Thompson will host a memorial dinner Saturday night at the Executive Mansion celebrating the centennial anniversary of Franklin Delano Roosevelt's birth.

Like George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, Franklin Delano Roosevelt knew what it meant to build and renew a young and growing nation," the governor said, "to overcome the pain and despair of the time and to inject vigor and desire into tired minds and souls."

"We celebrate the memory of a man who gave our men and women an example of what a hero means to an entire country. He taught us great lessons in courage and leadership, and especially faith and confidence in our democratic institutions, and for that we remember him."

Thompson, who in December announced that 1982 is to be Franklin Delano Roosevelt Centennial Celebration Year in Illinois, will host nearly 100 guests at the Executive Mansion for the dinner, including Tim Bresnahan, chairman of a committee the governor appointed to study additional ways to honor FDR. Bresnahan is business manager of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 134, in Chicago.

Among those attending the dinner will be state AFL-CIO President Robert Gibson and Joe Jacobs, program chairman for the dinner. Jacobs also will have a display of FDR memorabilia at the dinner.

Officials question utility financing

Two witnesses from the Governor's Office of Consumer Services (GOCS), in written testimony before the Illinois Commerce Commission, have raised questions regarding the projected construction costs reflected in a proposed Commonwealth Edison bond sale.

The testimony was submitted to the Commission on the utility's proposal to sell $200 million in first mortgage bonds. The sale of those bonds is based on estimates of construction cost.

The witnesses said Commonwealth Edison's financing plans appear to be understated for the years beyond 1983, which could cause rate increases in the foreseeable future.

The witnesses were Rudolph L. Bertschi, assistant director of GOCS and Peter Penner, an electrical engineer with GOCS.

Commonwealth Edison, the nation's second largest private utility, has budgeted

$5.5 billion for construction from 1982 through 1988. Most of the funds would go toward construction of six large nuclear units the utility is building, which Com Ed states are between 25 and 99 percent complete.

According to the utility, the cost of the remaining work is projected to escalate at a nine percent annual rate.

Penner testified that the cost of the plants has been increasing at nearly double that rate, with even larger annual increases to be expected as the units near completion.

Bertschi testified the commission has "an insufficient basis to determine whether the proposed financing is in the public interest."

He said that in addition to possibly using underestimated construction costs, the utility failed to consider all possible financing options and presented "only the sketchiest proposal" to the Commission.

GOP chairmen back Blair

Thirty-two Illinois Republican County chairmen have added their names to the list of party regulars already supporting the candidacy of W. Robert Blair for state treasurer in the coming March 16 primary election.

Just two weeks ago, the second largest Republican county in the state (Lake County) voted to endorse Blair.

Among those county chairmen adding their names to the Blair endorsement list are: Joe Beeler (Carroll); Pete Sapetti (Christian); Dwayne Wetzel (Coles); Paul S. Phillips (DeWitt); Latham "Butch" Heath (Edgar); Doug Karnes (Franklin); W. Jackson (Gallatin); James M. Davis (Grundy); Carl "Ace" Scott (Hamilton); Elmer Kraus (Hancock); A. D. Schut (Hardin); Clarence E. Neff (Henderson); Marvin E. Perzee (Iroquois); Max Shurtz (Jefferson); Richard White (Jew Davis); Rep. C. L. McCormick (Johnson); George Kangas (Lake); and Harvey S. Traub (Livingston).

Other Chairmen include: Harry G. Taylor (Macon); Ed Wesner (Marion); Millage "Buddy" Woodward (Massac); Albert Lucht (Menard); Bill Farris (Montrieu); Victor English (Pope); Carl F. Bode (Pulaski); Bill W. Roberts (Saline); Robert Wessels (Stephenson); Frank Keistler Jr. (Union); Rep. Clyde Robbins (Wayne); Cecil Hucker (White); Louis P. Yangas (Will); and George Williams (Williamson).

In addition to the County Chairmen, five State Senators, and 22 State Representatives have joined the Blair camp.

DeMolay chili supper Feb. 16

James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay, will hold its annual chili supper on Tuesday, Feb. 16, at the Masonic Temple, 20th Street and Cleveland Boulevard. Serving will be from 11 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., according to Ruby Sullivan, president of the Mother's Club.

Tickets are available for a $1.75 donation from any DeMolay, Mother's Club member, advisor or at the door on the 16th. Carryouts will be available.

A ticket provides a bowl of homemade chili or two hot dogs, a homemade dessert and a drink - coffee, milk or soda. Pat Gibbons, master councilor, announces that the annual event started on the third Tuesday in February in the late 1980's and is the main fund raising event for the DeMolay Chapter. The public is invited to attend, he added.

21 crashes Monday but GC peaceful that night

With five additional inches of snow Monday afternoon and evening aggravating driving conditions, 21 traffic mishaps were recorded in Granite City that day, including two injuries.

But the new mantle of white prompted most people to stay indoors, and police activity dropped sharply.

After answering 19 calls from citizens during the day's "first watch" from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m., and responding to 27 calls between 3 and 11 p.m., the police department had absolutely no calls from 11 p.m. Monday to 7 a.m. Tuesday, a rarity in a city of nearly 40,000 persons.

The only notations on the eight-hour log were references to hourly broadcasts of the station's radio call letters, plus cell-checks each half hour, during which inspections were made of the jail area to check on the welfare of prisoners.

The "zero calls" summary was regarded as an extreme rarity, since it reflected a complete absence of traffic problems, injuries, domestic disputes, thefts, burglaries, robberies, assaults, fights and other disturbances, violations or occurrences related to law enforcement.

Monday's tally of traffic collisions included: 9:29 a.m., Niedringhaus Avenue; 10:40, Walnut Street; 11:52, Niedringhaus; 12:11 p.m., Walnut Street; 2:05, a third Niedringhaus accident; 2:06, Nameoki Road; 2:30, Bellemeor shopping center; and 2:32, Bellemeor.

With snow falling, the pace of crashes increased: 4:02, Stearns Avenue; 4:17, Nineteenth Street; 4:30, Madison Avenue; 4:45, Niedringhaus; 4:45, Johnson Road; 4:49, Madison at 30th; 5:09, E. 23rd Street; 6:09, Niedringhaus; 6:09, Nameoki at Linda Boulevard; 6:15, W. 22nd Street; 6:18, Illinois Route Three at Rock Road; 6:29, 23rd Street at Monroe Street; 6:44, 1000 block of Madison Avenue; and 8:15, Bellemeor.

A bus stalled on railroad tracks at 4:17 p.m. Monday at Nameoki Drive and Missouri Avenue. At 4:26, an auto stalled on the Niedringhaus Avenue railroad crossing. In both cases, police helped move the vehicles out of danger. A pickup stalled at 5:18 p.m. Monday on Route Three near Pontoon Road. It was pushed to the side of the road to clear traffic lanes.

As the day progressed, traffic conditions improved and "only" nine auto accidents (with two injuries) were noted Tuesday—at Nameoki-St. Clair, Crossroads, Rock Road, Nameoki-Venice, 29th-Madison, 22nd Street railroad crossing, Johnson-Nameoki, Route Three at West Pontoon Road, and Maryville Road at Route 102.

Illinois Route Three became hazardous Monday evening, including the Interstate 270 vicinity, and it remained slick and icy Tuesday and Wednesday, with a special hazard warning issued as vehicles descended the Chicago Avenue overpass near the Granite City Army Installation. The Army base itself closed on Tuesday due to the snow and ice.

The temperature plummeted to a record (for Feb.) of nine degrees below zero Wednesday. But it rose rapidly during the morning hours and was in the teens Wednesday afternoon, as it had been on Tuesday afternoon.

Wednesday was the 11th below-zero day here this winter, compared to a usual total of four.

While the absence of further snow as the week progressed led to a decrease in traffic crashes, it also permitted travel by "restless natives," eager to escape their weather-imposed "cabin fever."

Instead of the peaceful night on Monday, Tuesday evening and night brought an upsurge in disturbances and law violations, including even an armed robbery.

On streets and in parking areas, snow and ice remain on streets and continue to make parking difficult, turns uncertain, walking awkward, and vehicles stop frighteningly and nearly all forms of travel more time-consuming.

Coffee concert Monday

Faculty and students of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will present the second of the winter coffee concert series, Monday, Feb. 15, at 8:15 p.m. in the University Center.

The first half of the program will consist of classical selections by Malipiero, Martinu and Ravel. The SIUE Studio Orchestra, directed by Brett Staiger, will perform after intermission. They will play such compositions as "Tell Me A Bedtime Story" by George Melitt, clarinet; Kent Perry, violin, and Robert Schiebler, viola. A Scott will play the flute, and Band Director Marcia Ann La Reau will conduct Martinu's "Les Rondes." Associate Professor Joseph Pival will play the cello.

The concert, which is open to the public, will be presented in the Conference Center on the second floor of the University Center. Admission is $4 per person.

North student orientation

Incoming ninth graders to Granite City High School North and their parents are being invited to attend an orientation program at North beginning at 7 p.m. Monday.

A general meeting of the current 8th graders and parent will be in the school cafeteria at 7 p.m.

After the general session the parents and students will be invited to attend three short meetings of their choice in areas of subject interest.

The entire program will conclude at 9 p.m. "This will be a good opportunity to meet the administrators, many of the staff members and school counselors," North Principal Gilbert V. Wainsley said.

Holiday schedule at post offices Monday

The Granite City post office will operate on a holiday schedule during its Washington's birthday observance on Monday, Feb. 15.

Postmaster Jack D. Wilkins said there will be no regular residential or business mail deliveries. Usual post office lobby services will not be available with the exception of lockbox service, which will be available from 8 to 4.

However, delivery of certain expedited mail service will continue during the holiday weekend. Included are Special Delivery (if applicable) and Express Mail. Mailers should call the post office at 877-0701 for information about holiday schedules and rates.

Mail pick-up from collection boxes also will be on holiday schedule, as posted on individual boxes, or determined by calling the post office.

Normal mail service will resume Tuesday, February 16.

Holiday weekend

Prepare for a confusing weekend.

Friday is Lincoln's birthday and Monday is the federal observed birthday for George Washington, who's traditional birthday is Monday, Feb. 22.

There will be no school on Friday, but all schools will meet on Monday.

All federal offices are closed on Monday and there will be no mail delivery, but federal offices will be open on Friday; this includes mail on Friday and Saturday.

However, all State of Illinois offices are closed on Friday and open Monday.

The Madison County Court house is making it simple, they are closed both Friday and Monday; with local city offices open both Friday and Monday.

Banks and other financial institutions are open on Friday; but are closing Saturday and will re-open on Tuesday.

The Granite City Press-Record will publish as usual on Monday and be open for business both Friday and Monday.

If you have any important business to transact during the next four days it is suggested you may save problems by calling ahead.

3 rob store and owner

Three teenage boys displayed weapons while robbing the E and L confectionery, 2503 Washington Ave., and its owner, Earl W. Sykes, at 5:35 p.m. Tuesday.

When one pointed a .38-caliber revolver at him, he pushed the arm away until the gun was pointing at his assailant. But a second youth jumped over the counter and pointed an old blue steel handgun at him.

The third opened a switchblade knife and held it against his throat.

Sykes gave them an undetermined amount of currency and coins from a cash register. After he was forced to lie on the floor behind a counter, the robbers took his wallet, containing about $75, licenses and cards.

The trio ran toward E. 25th Street, crossing the 2200 block, and then fled to the Edwards Street area.

One was tall, with dark hair. Another was 5-10 in height, weighing 160 pounds, and had dark hair. A third was short and had blond hair.

Police questioned a number of suspects.

BURGLAR TAKES GUNS

Venice riverfront may be improved

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

The Venice riverfront area may be improved with funds that may be allocated to the city of Venice under a joint state (Mo.-Ill.) riverfront improvement program to make the Venice landing into a secondary park area.

The monies would allow lighting, signs, repairs to the ramp, road improvements and possibly concrete picnic tables, Mayor Tyrone Echols told the city council Tuesday night.

There would be no restrooms due to cost and maintenance problems.

"I hope there can be some arrangements made for perhaps some portable restrooms at least during the summer," Mayor Tyrone Echols said.

Echols stated that he was informed by authorities of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Area Planning Commission (SIMRAC) that about $40,000 may be spent on the Venice landing area.

"We have a suggested new ordinance on our dogs running loose. We'll give each alderman a copy of the old ordinance and the new one that our attorney Mr. (Larry) Hartman has drawn up."

There are several blanks particularly in regard to the amount of fines that should be charged for people that are in violation of the law.

"This will give you a chance to study the new ordinance, compare it with the one we now have, and next meeting we can discuss what direction the council would like to take on this problem," Mayor Echols said.

There have been several complaints in recent weeks about people letting their dogs run loose in the city.

Mayor Echols read a letter on behalf of the congregation of the New Salem Baptist Church thanking the street department for their "excellent" job of snow removal.

"I would like to thank the people who have been so patient with us during this snow storm problem."

"I think this is the worst snow storm in about 70 years and our men have done a really fine job and are still working at it."

DISPLAY PUMPER

The Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department is anticipating delivery of its new pumper tonight and firefighters will participate in training on how to operate it tomorrow and Saturday.

The truck will be on display to the public tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday at the fire station in Ponton Beach.

His wife, Mrs. Edna Branscomb, died in 1967.

Survivors include one son, William "Bud" Branscomb of Mount Hawkins, N.J.; a daughter, Mrs. Mary Ruth Hull of Collinsville; four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Friday, Feb. 5, at Hill Funeral Home, Sparta, with burial in Caladonia Cemetery, Sparta.

Some may receive aid for home heat bills

Some Illinois Power Company customers may be eligible for help with heating bills, the company has announced.

C. E. Mathias, service area manager, said the Illinois Home Energy Assistance Program offers help based on family size and income. The program is available through the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission, 3054 Godfrey Road, Godfrey, Illinois — the telephone number is 466-0000 (618).

A family of one is eligible if annual income does not exceed $5,388 and income for the past 90 days has not exceeded $1,347. The annual limit for a family of six is $12,924 and the 90-day limit is $3,231.

Mathias said this program is available to customers of all ages, and the customer need not be behind in his bill to qualify.

Persons seeking assistance would have to provide to the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission, proof of income for the past 90 days, a copy of the current utility bill, and the Social Security number of the head of the household.

Mathias also said that Illinois Power Company customers who have trouble with their bills may seek a "deferred payment plan." When such a plan is approved, the customer pays as much as they can on the bill and pays the balance over several months along with the payment of future bills.

The extremely cold weather this winter has caused heating bills to be as much as 50 percent higher than normal, Mathias said.

Setback for IDOT building

Gov. James R. Thompson announced last week that he has placed a freeze on all state construction projects not currently under way and has reduced the planned state bond sales for this fiscal year from $380 million to $200 million.

The Illinois Department of Transportation regional headquarters planned for near Collinsville is one of the projects affected by the freeze, but Collinsville Mayor Gene Gromblich says he does not believe this setback dooms the building's ultimate construction.

The building's construction, planned at Eastport Plaza, has, in effect, been "on the back burner" for the last 18 months, the mayor pointed out. "We're keeping it in mind, just waiting," he said Friday.

Included in the freeze are all current projects for which contracts have not yet been approved or have not yet started. The governor emphasized the state will meet all outstanding contractual obligations and all projects now under construction will be completed. The governor also is proposing that new capital appropriations for fiscal 1983 be limited to providing urgently needed prison beds, meeting emergencies, funding to complete projects now in motion, and proceed on highway programs, mass transit and aeronautics programs.

Smith-Hughes Act

On Feb. 23, 1917, federal aid was provided for vocational education under the Smith-Hughes Act.

McPike Protests closing of Job Service offices in area

State Representative Jim McPike (D-Alton) has written President Ronald Reagan to protest the closing of Job Service offices in Granite City and Edwardsville.

"It is particularly ironic," McPike said, "that President Reagan, who claimed that re-training workers and lowering the unemployment rate were his top priorities, is cutting the budget by 29 percent for Job Service programs in which the main purpose was putting people back to work."

Twenty-two Job Service offices and 11 WIN (Work Incentive Program) offices around the state will close their doors February 15. The closings are the result not only of the reduction in federal funds for Job Service, but also a 24 percent cutback in monies for WIN. "The Madison county area is suffering from a 10.5 percent unemployment rate—compared to a figure of 8.4 percent unemployment for the statewide," added McPike. "This is not the time to cut services that help people who genuinely want to work to stay off the welfare rolls."

According to McPike, the Granite City and Edwardsville Job Service offices were able to place more than 2,200 applicants in jobs during 1981. "It is a tragedy to see a program that actually cuts costs being decimated for the sake of quick fix budget mending," continued McPike. "For every dollar that we spent on the WIN program, we actually saved over two dollars in welfare costs. Continuing the Job Service program is the least our government can do in light of the 8.9 percent unemployment rate nationally," McPike said.

Child's first trip to dentist

By MARY RICHARDS
At what age should you take your child to the dentist for the first time? When he or she is two-and-a-half to three years old.

Many people think that because children only have baby teeth until they are about six years old, there is no need to take them to a dentist. They feel that since the child is going to lose the baby teeth anyway, there is no need to try to save them.

There are several reasons why the Illinois Department of Public Health's Dental Division encourages you to protect those teeth. It's true that your child is still a baby when his teeth first appear, but he should not lose the last of his baby teeth before he is 11 or 12 years old.

If a tooth is lost too early, the teeth on either side of the empty space will eventually drift toward each other. Then, when the permanent tooth comes in, there is not enough space for it; so it cannot come in in its proper position. This is one cause of "crooked teeth," or malocclusion, as the condition is properly called.

Malocclusion causes other problems, too. For example, food is more likely to pack down in the spaces between the teeth, and this may result in more tooth decay. It may also cause gum disease.

Baby teeth are necessary to help your child say words clearly so he or she can be understood. If he has teeth missing, or if they hurt him, he might not be able to chew foods which are good for him, such as apples.

With your dentist's help, you may be able to prevent problems with your child's teeth. For one thing, your dentist will show you the proper way to clean your child's teeth.

As soon as his baby teeth start growing in, you should start brushing and flossing your child's teeth—gently, of course. But at age two or so, he should be taught how to care for his own teeth, and you should see that he does this thoroughly at least once a day—and after every meal, if possible. While he is learning, you should continue to brush and floss for him at least once a day.

If your child loses a primary tooth too soon, because of decay or an accident, your dentist may want to insert a space maintainer. This will hold the adjacent teeth apart so that the permanent tooth can erupt in the proper position.

Your dentist will also want you to take special care of the six-year molars. When some permanent teeth start to grow in, they push the baby teeth out, but this isn't true of the six-year molars. They are the first permanent teeth, and it is important that your child not lose them because they help the other permanent teeth grow in straight.

Your dentist will also want to make sure your child is getting the protection of fluoride. This protection can be provided in several ways—through your drinking water source, through a fluoride mouth-rinse program at school, through the use of a fluoride toothpaste or by direct application by the dentist.

If you want information on dental health programs in which the state health department is involved, please contact the Illinois Department of Public Health, Division of Dental Health, 535 W. Jefferson, Springfield, Ill. 62761.

Toffant to address farmers on area's rural crime problem

By RONALDE CORNWELL
U of I

Crime is a problem in the rural area of Madison County. Rural residents need to be aware of the problem and what they can do about it. This is the purpose of the "Rural Crime Awareness Meeting" to be held Tuesday, February 16, at 7:30 p.m. at the Farm Bureau Auditorium, 900 Hillboro in Edwardsville.

The first topic on the program deals with "Arson—Is it a serious problem in rural Madison County?" Lemmie Crockett, Deputy, will cover the topic.

Larry Trent with the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation and how does the Division work with law enforcement agencies in Madison County to make the rural area a safer place to live?

Many times the wife and children are the only ones at home during the day or evening. They should know how to handle suspicious activity around the home and farm. They should also know how to deal with strangers around the home and farm. Rosaline Huebner, deputy sheriff in Madison County, will speak on this topic.

Frank Thomas, manager of Madison County Farm Bureau, will discuss "how your stolen property can be traced." He will also encourage you to properly identify your personal property.

If you have a crime problem in your community, there are steps you can take to reduce this problem. Glenn Gindler, Jarvis Township farmer, will talk about some of the steps you can take on a community wide basis to reduce this problem.

Emil Toffant, Madison County Sheriff, will talk about the steps you can take when a crime occurs on or around your farm.

Every citizen of Madison County should be aware of the crime problems in their area. You need to take positive steps to reduce crime.

Rich Gusewelle, Edwardsville area farmer, is the emcee for the Rural Crime Program and is the chairman of the Rural Development Committee which planned the program.

The 1982 Agriculture Pesticide Dealers and Applicators Clinic will be held Wednesday, Feb. 17, at the Holiday Inn, Collinsville. Registration for the program begins at 7:30 a.m.

The Illinois department of Agriculture will be giving the General Standards Certification Examination at 8 a.m. to those people wanting to obtain a commercial pesticide ap-plators license. In the afternoon, category exams will be given to those people needing the exams. Those persons issued an appliers license in 1977 or before need to be certified again this year.

University of Illinois specialist will provide an educational program beginning at 9:30 a.m. Topics to be covered include current practices and new developments in weed control, using uniform applications with dry fertilizer, insect control for the coming year, updates on control of corn, soybean and small grain diseases, developments in application equipment and updates on pesticide laws and regulations. The program is open to anyone interested in attending.

Registration fee is $4.

A Beef Cow-Calf Day will be held Wednesday, Feb. 17, at the United Church of Christ in Stanton. The program runs from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Ken Metz, Madison County Assistant Extension Adviser, is encouraging all beef producers in Madison County to attend the Beef-Calf Day. If attendance is low at this meeting, it will be very difficult to schedule beef meetings in the area in the future.

The program will include Tom Saxe, University of Illinois Livestock specialist, covering the cow-calf management calendar. Dan Graffis, University of Illinois Forage specialist, will talk about pasture renovation and variety selection. Duane Erickson, University of Illinois Beef Economist, will cover costs and returns from

Criticizes Ryan and Fahner

Neil F. Hartigan, Democratic candidate for the office of attorney general, said that appointed acting Attorney General Tyrone Fahner and Speaker of the House George Ryan have become the Alphonse and Gaston of the Republican Party.

"They defy all credibility as, with strained politeness, they try to pass the baton of blame to one another for mispending $75,000 of the taxpayers' money," Hartigan said. "Now Speaker Ryan has issued a mountain of documents intended to prove that Mr. Fahner delivered an opinion that the expenditure was legal. I've been saying for 10 days that Fahner approved the expenditures for Republican political purposes, that they amount to a giant campaign contribution."

At issue is $75,000 of the taxpayers' money paid to lawyers by Speaker Ryan in a federal court dispute over congressional redistricting. Ryan says that a July 10, 1981, letter from Fahner, which he unexplainedly received on Aug. 5, was the attorney general's approval of the payment. Fahner says that the letter was nothing more than a statement that the attorneys hired by Ryan were good ones and the rates were reasonable.

"Now, many months after the payments began, Mr. Fahner has issued an opinion that the Republicans should not have used the taxpayers' money for blatantly partisan purposes," Hartigan said. "It is noteworthy that Mr.

Fahner was reluctant to issue an opinion until the press and I pointed out the obvious misuse of public funds."

Hartigan said that it is absurd for anyone to believe that Fahner's letter, written on official attorney general's stationery and signed by him, was not meant to "grease the way" for the payments to go through the administrative process. "The letter gave the vouchers the appearance of legitimacy," Hartigan said. "Speaker Ryan has said that he sought the attorney general's approval and did not submit vouchers until he received approval," Hartigan said. "The Illinois taxpayers are not being fooled by the weak explanation from the attorney general's office that Mr. Fahner did not know that Speaker Ryan was going to attach the letter to the vouchers. What did he think Ryan was going to do with the letter?"

"Now the public is being subjected to the distasteful spectacle of two senior Republican office holders doing an Alphonse and Gaston routine," Hartigan said. "Each is trying to get the other to go first with an explanation."

16th Amendment
The 16th Amendment to the Constitution was adopted on Feb. 25, 1913, giving Congress the power to lay taxes on incomes without apportionment among the states.

Seek host families for exchange students

Host families are being sought for 25 high school students from Sweden, Norway, Finland, Germany, Spain and the Philippines for the school year 1982-83, in a program sponsored by the American Intercultural Student Exchange (AISE). The students, ages 15 through 17, will arrive in the United States in August, 1982, attend the local high school and return to their home country in late June, 1983. The students, all fluent in English, have been screened by their school representatives in their home countries and have spending money and medical insurance.

Host families with small children may participate in this program. Host families may deduct $60 per month for Income Tax purposes. AISE also is seeking American high school students, age 15 through 17, who would like to spend a high school year in Sweden, Norway, Finland, Germany or Spain, or participate in a five-week Host Family stay in the same countries and the Philippines during the summer. Families interested in any of these programs should contact AISE immediately. Letters should contain the host family's address and telephone number and may be sent to Sue Tormals, 23 Wren Circle, Rockford, Ill., 61107.

Business Women to award scholarships

The Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club has available two $200 scholarships for women who are interested in furthering their education.

The Verna Lengyel Scholarship, initiated in 1972, is awarded to a BPW member who desires to advance her education in the field of her choice and shows financial need. She also must agree to remain a member of BPW for two years.

The second grant is available to any woman working or residing in the area served by the Illinois Federation of BPW Clubs, with priority given to those living in the Quad-Cities.

Applicants are not required to be BPW members. Started in 1978 and known as the Granite City BPW Club Scholarship, the latter grant will be awarded this year to a person whose field of study is either in health or finance.

The study areas are designated annually by the BPW Scholarship Fund, trustees, according to Pauline Weir, a member of the trustees' board.

Applications for either grant must be submitted by March 15, 1982, to: Pauline Weir, Scholarship Fund, 3278 Wabash Ave., Granite City, Ill., 62040.

Candidates are required to submit a resume, noting the scholarship she is seeking and stating the following information:

Name of the college where officially enrolled (funds are sent directly to the applicant's school); place of current and previous employment, including dates; a brief statement why she needs the scholarship; her career objectives and how the scholarship will benefit in this area; three references from persons unrelated to the applicant; and an attached statement outlining current financial status.

Mrs. Weir said the awards will be presented at the annual public relations dinner meeting, scheduled April 21.

Granite Chapter 650 plans chicken dinner

An evening of fellowship was enjoyed by members, officers, and guests at the regular weekend meeting of the Granite Chapter 650, Order of the Eastern Star, held at the Masonic Temple, conducted by Worthy Matron Varseng (Vee) Throne and Worthy Patron Jack DeCoursey.

Those escorted for the evening were board members, grand committees members, past matrons and past patrons, Mary Bilbrey, Dona Boyer, Hazel Woods, Dorothy Watkins, Mary French, Kathryn Pomperoy member of New Hope Chapter, Virginia John, Ida Cariss, Arline Fox, Donna Kazy, Betty McClintock, Hulda Griffith, Betty Ebrecht, Francis Williams, Earl French, John Boyer, and Charles Young.

Worthy Matron Throne announced that the annual fried chicken dinner, given by Granite Chapter 650, will be March 7. Tickets will be available from members and the price will be announced at a later date, it was noted.

Associate Matron Della Aulabach was invited to advance night at the Walton Chapter, in Alton, on Feb. 15.

and the Unity Chapter, in Marine, Ill., on Feb. 18. The worthy matron and worthy patron welcomed the guests and thanked the protem officers Karmyn Edwards, Shirley DeCoursey and Jimmy E. Stuart.

Guest in the East for the evening was Junior, Paul Worthy Matron of Granite Chapter 650 Mary French.

The meeting was closed with the worthy patron serving every one to the dining room for refreshments. Tables were decorated for the evening with goblets filled with red roses and greenery. The roses were made for the worthy matron's installation by her sister Rose. In addition to the floral arrangements the worthy matron's and worthy patron's mascot, the elephant, was placed at bowls of peanuts.

Entertainment was provided by Wanda MacDougall with a program of "My Trash" from Sesame Street.

The refreshment committee for the evening was Dee Baker, Peggy Gibbons, Lois Hebblethwaite, Mary Stuart, Jerry Fisher, and members.

Armenian Seminary to mark 50th anniversary

A Thanksgiving Mass will be held at St. Gregory Armenian Apostolic Church, Sunday, Feb. 14, at 10:30 a.m. during Divine Liturgy, to commemorate the 50th Anniversary of the Seminary of the Holy See of Cilicia.

The special mass will be offered by Rev. Khoren Habeshian, pastor of St. Gregory Church, and will offer a message for the continued success of the Cilician Catholic and the Armenian Theological Seminary.

Requiem services for the repose of the souls of the past Catholicos, Directors of the Seminary, teachers, the graduates and all benefactors will be offered. Without their devotion, diligent work and constant support at the seminary, the high standards of religious training could not have been maintained, according to a local spokesman.

Immediately following Divine Liturgy, a luncheon will be served to the parishioners, and a program will feature a slide presentation which will depict current seminary life.

The St. Gregory Sunday School children will participate in the program by reciting poems and provide musical entertainment.

Zohrab K. Tazian, a former seminarian, of Fort Wayne, Ind., will be the featured speaker, it was announced.

More adults go back to college

More and more adults are choosing to return to college to broaden their horizons or just to "pick up where they left off."

To familiarize these new, more mature students with the University system, the Counseling and Testing Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a free workshop, Friday, Feb. 19.

The program will be led by Max Hansel, a counselor in the Counseling and Testing Center. He said the workshop is designed for men and women seeking change and new directions as a result of job loss, retirement or the desire for personal fulfillment.

Topics to be covered in the course include: gaining college credit for life experiences, career interest testing, entering college as a non-high school graduate, individual counseling, financial assistance, tutoring, and placement information.

Sessions will meet in the Mississippi Room of the University Center from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. Parking is available in the visitor's lot. Participants may either bring a bag lunch or eat in the University cafeteria.

Hansel said participants may make appointments with counselors for individual counseling after 2 p.m.

For more information, interested persons may contact Max Hansel at the Counseling and Testing Center at (618) 692-2100.

CHOUTEAU CALLS SPECIAL MEETING

A special meeting of the Chouteau Town Board and the township's community development citizens' advisory committee has been called for 7 p.m. Monday, Feb. 15, in the township hall, 697 North Thorngate Drive, Mitchell, behind the Midwest Motel.

The purpose of the special session is to discuss plans for using community development grant funds.

MISHAP ON JOHNSON

Vickie L. Page, 20, of 3945 Village Lane, was hurt at 6:25 p.m. Tuesday in a collision on Johnson Road near Nameoki Road. There was damage to the left side of her car, eastbound and turning left into a service station, and the rear of the auto of Thomas Schooley, 2038 Edison Ave., who was backing eastward.

South high open for 8th graders, parents

Going to high school for the first time can be a frustrating and frightening experience, particularly for new students, unfamiliar with the school.

To avoid that, Granite City High School South is planning a night of orientation on Monday for eighth grade students who will attend South and their parents.

From 7 p.m. until 7:25 p.m. there will be guided tours of GCIS South. A general session will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

Literature to be given out includes graduation requirements, course descriptions of ninth-grade subjects and a worksheet for classes.

There will then be three general sessions allowing the parents and future high school students to pick three areas of major or non-major interest.

Major area choices include art, business education, English, foreign language, home economics, industrial occupations, mathematics, off-campus programs such as cosmetology and health occupations, science and health, social studies and special education.

Non-major areas will include: drivers' education, guidance and counseling, band and vocal music, physical education, athletics and speech.

"High school offers opportunities for friendships and fun, as well as for knowledge of advanced education and career opportunities," James Dumont principal at South said.

"High school could be described as a pocketbook edition of the outside world. It is in high school where students can learn how to find their places in the world, how to do their jobs successfully and how to live and work happily with others."

"We believe that attending the orientation session will be a good beginning for the eighth-graders and their parents. This program is designed for both student and parents. The potential students are welcome only if they attend with a parent or guardian."

"I am sure those attending will find the program very worthwhile and informative," Dumont concluded.

LOCAL MAN ARRESTED ON FEDERAL CHARGES Samuel L. Harper, 79, listed at addresses on Delmar Avenue and on Lake Drive, was arrested at the request of the Federal Bureau of Investigation at 4:40 p.m. Tuesday while he was walking in the 2200 block of Grand Avenue.

Agents displayed warrants alleging interstate transportation of stolen property and a stolen motor vehicle, plus conspiracy. Granite City police released him at 5:15 p.m. to the FBI Alton staff in lieu of $25,000 bond.

He also has been known to some as Robert Stewart, Samuel Bryon, Charles Bryon, Don Hibbs, Robert West and Robert Weston, authorities said.

French unions About 20 percent of France's working population belong to labor unions. In 1980 union members totaled nearly 23 million.

Promote two at Madison County Federal

Paul F. Sodko, President of Madison County Federal Savings and Loan with its home office in Granite City and branches in Troy and Glen Carbon, announced the promotion of two employees to officer status with the 59-year-old Association.

Linda Manis was named assistant secretary. Mrs. Manis joined Madison County Federal in January, 1974.

Presently she serves as savings counselor. With her husband, Tom and daughter, Tracy, she resides at 2472 Kilmer Drive.

Dana Shaffer was named assistant treasurer. She joined the savings and loan association in June, 1976. Presently, Mrs. Shaffer is the firm's chief accountant. She resides at 2905 Marshall Ave., with her husband, Richard.

"We are pleased to announce the promotions of these dedicated employees. Only their efforts and the performance of our entire staff enable us to become one of Southern Illinois' fastest growing financial institutions," concluded Sodko.

Services held for Minnie Moeller

Funeral services were conducted at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 9, at Concordia Lutheran Church, 2301 Grand Ave., for Mrs. Minnie Moeller, 86, of 2920 E. 25th St. The Rev. Arvin Twietmeyer officiated at the service.

Mrs. Moeller died at 6:05 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 6, 1982, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

A native of Garrison, Neb., she had resided in this area for 59 years.

Mrs. Moeller was a member of Concordia Lutheran Church, the Ladies Aid of the church and a senior citizen pinocle club.

Her husband, Conrad Moeller, died Aug. 24, 1977.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Douglas (Nelle) Horn, Florissant, Mo.; a sister, Mrs. Marie Doehling, Grand Island, Neb., and two grandsons, Michael and Steven Horn. Burial was in Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

PLEADS INNOCENT

Mrs. Shirley Robinson, 45, of 3008 E. 23rd St. pleaded innocent after being charged with disorderly conduct at 11 a.m. Tuesday at her apartment, where her husband, Billy Robinson, had been struck across the head with a cane. She remained in custody pending transfer to Edwardsville.

LINDA MANIS

DANA SHAFFER

Tired Legs? Now women who spend a lot of time on their feet can have support for tired legs and won't look like they're wearing support hose. Old gravity could get you down if you would let it. It's constantly pulling, pulling down on the blood in your leg veins. Being on your feet a lot really takes it out of you. That's why we made Jobst-Stridette's sheer support pantyhose that combats the fatigue caused by the down-pull of gravity. They're really helpful, quite sensible, and very practical. These high-fashion elastic pantyhose by Jobst have just the right amount of support to keep the vitality in your legs. And they're elegantly beautiful, too. Bathe your tired legs in a light graceful sheen and support them in style. Shimmering sand is a popular shade. Also available in Professional White.

Susan B. Anthony birthday to be celebrated by NOW

The birthdate of Susan B. Anthony (1820-1906), one of the early founders of the Women's Rights Movement, will be celebrated Monday evening, Feb. 15, at the meeting of the Metro-East Chapter of the National Organization of Women. The group meets the third Monday evening of each month at the Nameoki Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road, Granite City. Susan B. Anthony dedicated her entire life to women's causes, and especially to the struggle of winning the vote. She is the first real woman whose likeness appears on a U.S. coin. The only other coin with a female face is the Liberty Head Dollar, which portrays a symbolic woman. The program will begin about 8 p.m., after the business meeting, and will include the showing of a film entitled "Babies and Banners," which is a brief documentary about the women who helped start and maintain unions. Afterwards, Linda Casper, labor task force will give a talk on "Women and Our Work," and discuss Susan B. Anthony's involvement with the labor union movement. Ms. Casper is an apprentice carpenter. In commemoration of her unselfish, tireless, lifelong efforts and commitment, Susan B. Anthony dollars will be donated by members as Metro-East Chapter's portion of the Illinois State N. O. W. contribution to the campaign for the passage of the Equal Rights Amendment. (This amendment has actually been passed in Illinois by a majority vote but has been thwarted by the unrealistic three-fifths rule.)

All interested persons are welcome. Membership in the National Organization for Women is open to both women and men.

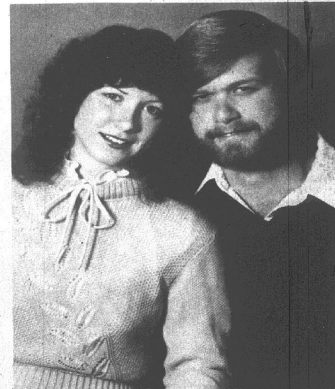

Pfc. and Mrs. Roy Cutright

Cutright-Miller

Trinity United Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding on Jan. 8, of Miss Kathleen Ann Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene L. Miller, 2434 E. 24th St., and Private First Class Roy Lee Cutright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cutright of Gashlight Walk Apts. The Rev. Dale Denham conducted the double ring ceremony at 6 p.m. before an altar decorated with bouquets of red and white flowers and accented with burning tapers in brass holders. A program of nuptial music was provided by organist Joyce Harris. Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Miller wore a full length white taffeta gown covered with sheer nylon, designed with a round neckline and long lace sleeves. The softly flowing skirt extended in a chapel length train. The gown was enhanced with pearl and lace motif. Her fingertip veil was secured to a tiara headpiece and she carried a cascade of white mums and red rosebuds.

Attending the couple were Donna Stalecker and John Arms, as honor attendant and best man. The newlywed couple are both graduates from Granite City High South. After a honeymoon in Missouri, they departed for Texas where the groom is stationed at Fort Hood.

Diane Holshouser and Michael Grisham

Grisham-Holshouser

The engagement of Miss Diane Holshouser and Michael Grisham, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Ray Grisham of Eldorado, Ill., formerly of Granite City, is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Holshouser of Troy, Ill. Miss Holshouser graduated from Edwardsville High School and is a 1981 graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Her fiancé was graduated from North High School and served four years in the U.S. Marine Corps. He is presently employed at Bramlet's Inc., the John Deer dealership in Eldorado. The betrothed couple plan to be married on April 16 at St. Boniface Catholic Church in Edwardsville.

Deborah Lewis and Charles Payne

Payne-Lewis

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lewis, Rural Route One, Granite City, are announcing the betrothal of their daughter, Miss Deborah K. Lewis to Charles K. Payne. Parents of the groom-elect are Mrs. Judy Hancock, 1553 Garfield Ave., and Charles S. Payne of Cahokia. A 1981 graduate of North High School, Miss Lewis was active in Quill and Scroll, Future Homemakers of America and served in offices of secretary and treasurer for the Social Studies Club. She is employed at National Industrial Supply Co., as a secretary of the Onan Emergency Generator Co. Her fiancé works as a carpenter for Ken Lewis Construction Co., and was graduated from South High School in 1979. Plans are being completed by the engaged couple for a wedding on May 15 to be solemnized at Briarcliff Pentecostal Church.

Women's Aglow meet is re-scheduled

The Granite City Women's Aglow Fellowship will meet, Feb. 15, at Rustie's Restaurant on Highway 157. This will be an open meeting in celebration of the organization's sixth anniversary.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m., costing $5.75 per person and reservations are to be made by calling 931-4890 or 931-1469.

The teaching and singing ministry of Larry and Vicki Raftery, from St. Charles, Mo., known as "Worship His Majesty Ministry," will be featured at the meeting which will convene at 7:30 p.m.

This meeting had previously been announced for Feb. 1, but because of the weather it has been re-scheduled for this time.

Soroptimist Club honors GC women

The Soroptimist Club of Metro-East has selected Angela Grupas the winner of the Youth Citizenship Award Program and Marsha Ann Wirtz as first in the Training Award Program. Both are from Granite City.

The awards will be presented at a dinner meeting in Belleville, Monday, Feb. 22 at Panorama Bowl. The youth awards to be presented are to Miss Grupas of Granite City High South, first, Cathleen Channer of Belleville East, second, and Jill Plana of Belleville West, third.

Chairman of the Youth Program was Mrs. Elizabeth Klingler of the English Department at East St. Louis High School. The judges were Mrs. Roberta Bauer of Belleville, Mrs. Judy Schindler a counselor at East St. Louis High, and Vernon Ohlendorf, an English teacher East St. Louis High School.

The Training Award will be presented to Mrs. Wirtz of Granite City, who is employed at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Judges for this program were past presidents of the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Emylee Alford, Mrs. Jo Meyer and Mrs. Jeannette Scannell.

Both Miss Grupas and Mrs. Wirtz' applications have been forwarded on to the regional level to be placed in competition with winners from other clubs. Each regional gives a $1,000 award to the youth selected and two $1,250 training awards to mature women wishing to train for a higher level position.

Elna Hoover, past president of the local club, was chairman of the Training Awards program.

Most ambulances in state found to be within law

Secretary of State Jim Edgar has announced that most public and private ambulances in Illinois are complying with a new law requiring biennial inspections for mechanical safety before license plates can be issued.

Edgar said his Department of Police conducted spot inspections of 405 ambulances and med-cars the week of January 4 to 8. The vehicles were inspected to make sure basic mechanical equipment was in working order and license plates and safety stickers were properly displayed.

"The vast majority of ambulance owners in Illinois are obeying our new mechanical safety laws and are having their vehicles inspected. The results of these spot inspections should make the public feel more secure when they or a loved one must ride in an ambulance," Edgar said.

"Of the 286 mechanical ambulances inspected by the Secretary of State's Department of Police, only seven were in violation of the law. Of 111 private ambulances inspected, 96 had no violations.

"There was a different story with med-cars, however, in what appears to be a problem unique to the Chicago area since that is where almost all med-cars operate," Edgar said.

"Of the 28 med-cars inspected statewide, 25 were found with one or more violations. Nine were ticketed for having no license plates, six had no evidence of passing a safety inspection, two had malfunctioning turn signal and one was operating without the required lights.

Vehicles were cited if basic mechanical equipment, such as headlights, turn signals and flashing lights were not working or if the vehicles did not display safety stickers indicating they had passed a required Illinois Department of Transportation safety inspection. Citations also were issued if the vehicles were improperly registered or if license plates were improperly displayed.

"My office will continue to monitor the effectiveness of the new ambulance safety law because it is extremely important that vehicles carrying the sick and critically injured are as safe as can be."

"Further inspections will be conducted in the future to make sure ambulances and other emergency medical vehicles are complying with the new law," Edgar said.

The ambulance safety law, enacted by the Illinois General Assembly in 1981 legislative session, went into effect Jan. 1. It solely addresses a vehicle's mechanical equipment.

It is not to be confused with another law concerning ambulances that went into effect Jan. 1, 1980, which sets certain standards for the medical equipment emergency medical vehicles must carry and is administered by the Illinois Department of Public Health.

Exhibit spaces at farm show going fast

Exhibit spaces for the Southern Illinois Farm Materials Handling Show are filling fast and it looks as though the 1982 show at Nashville will be another full house, according to show planners.

The event, a showcase for the latest in farm and farm home automation, will be March 2-4 at the Washington County Fairgrounds in Nashville. Admission is free. More than 100 indoor exhibit spaces are expected to be rented by show time, said show coordinator Richard Patterson, who is an assistant professor of agricultural mechanization at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale. There also are more than 200 large, outdoor exhibit spaces available.

"This will be the largest show in the history of the exhibition," Patterson said. "In cooperation with the Washington County Fair Board, we recently increased our heated, indoor exhibit space by more than 15 percent. We expect all the spaces to be filled."

"Exhibits at the show this year are expected to include energy-saving and solar displays in addition to the traditional farmstead machinery and equipment."

Companies interested in exhibit space may contact the committee's 1982 exhibits chairman, Larry Howell, at the Southern Illinois Electric Cooperative in Dongola, (618) 827-3555.

The show is sponsored by the SIUC School of Agriculture, the Cooperative Extension Service, the Illinois Farm Electrification Council and area private and cooperative power suppliers.

HIGH FLYING FLAG CAMPAIGN. In a fund drive to decorate Granite City with American flags during national and local holidays, Sixth Ward Alderman Stephen Salitch (fourth from right) accepts a $500 contribution from Ray Romine, treasurer of Firefighters Local 253. The donation from Local 253 fulfilled half the $1,000 goal set by Salitch, who plans to purchase 100 flags to be displayed throughout major areas of the city. According to Salitch, donations are still being received this final week of the drive and may be sent to the city hall in care of Nick Perrillo, 200 Edison Ave., Granite City, Ill. 62040. Salitch is still seeking about $300 more in donations. Participating in the flag campaign are (left to right) Fire Chief Donald Parente, Richard Woods, secretary of Local 253; James Strack, vice-president of the local; (Romine); Salitch; Nick Perrillo, city treasurer; Robert Stevens, city clerk; and Mayor Paul Schuler.

High blood pressure threat to millions

Although nearly 35 million Americans have high blood pressure, many afflicted persons are not aware that they have it. Contrary to common myth, high blood pressure usually has no obvious symptoms. There may be some symptoms—such as dizziness, headaches, nosebleeds, but these signs can easily be related to something other than high blood pressure.

High blood pressure is quiet and dangerous. If your blood pressure is high, you may be more likely than a person with normal blood pressure to have a heart attack, stroke, or kidney problem.

Blood pressure is the amount of force that the blood exerts on artery walls. To understand what high blood pressure is, you must understand how blood reaches the body cells. The heart pumps blood through arteries, then through the smaller arterioles are capable of widening and narrowing. However, as they become narrower, the heart must pump harder to force blood through these channels. This increases blood pressure.

When you have your blood pressure checked, the doctor will record two numbers. The upper number is systolic pressure and the lower one is diastolic pressure.

If high interest rates have kept you from building or purchasing the new home of your dreams, don't let it stop you anymore. If you make under $18,000 and have $750 to put down, call Dave at 462-8862 to see if you qualify for one of our low interest loans.

Systolic pressure is the amount of force exerted on artery walls when the heart is pumping and diastolic pressure is the amount of force exerted when the heart is resting. For example, your blood pressure may be recorded like this: 120 (systolic) over 80 (diastolic). Regardless of age, blood pressure in excess of 140 over 90 is considered high by many physicians.

Many people confuse high blood pressure, or hypertension, with nervous tension and think that if they just remain calm, they can control high blood pressure. It doesn't work that way. You don't have to be nervous or overanxious to have high blood pressure.

To prevent or control high blood pressure or hypertension, you want to reduce the strain on your heart. One way to do this is by losing weight. Fat tissue requires blood and if you trim away this excess, you significantly reduce the heart's workload. Also, the excess fluid that sodium (salt) holds in your body can put pressure on the heart. A low-sodium diet, under a doctor's supervision, "sometimes" is all that is needed to control high blood pressure. In some cases, the doctor may prescribe diuretics, which are medicines that eliminate excess fluid. Most likely, though, your doctor will prescribe a combination of treatments.

Although the cause of most high blood pressure is unknown, researchers have pinpointed certain types of people who are more apt to have it. Overweight people are more prone to it and although it is slightly more prevalent in women, it usually is more severe in men. Blacks are twice as susceptible to high blood pressure as other ethnic groups. Because researchers believe that heredity plays a part, you stand a greater chance of having high blood pressure if your relatives suffer from it. Three of every four "pre-hypertensive" people will get high blood pressure. These are people who have blood pressure that fluctuates from normal to high.

A good piece of advice is not to wait for old age to start watching your blood pressure and having it checked regularly. It can occur at any age, usually without any symptoms.

Keep ice and snow off your gas meter and regulator

For safety and convenience it's important to keep the gas meter and regulator outside your home free of ice and snow. The operation of your gas regulator could be hampered by an accumulation of ice.

Report any natural gas leak immediately

Cold weather puts severe pressure on underground gas lines. In some cases, this unusual pressure may be more than a line can withstand.

Illinois Power is taking extra steps to monitor our gas mains to detect possible leaks. But we can't be everywhere. So we need the cooperation of everyone.

Be alert for the odor of natural gas

We add a distinctive odor to the gas that makes it easy to identify.

If you smell a gas leak anywhere, indoors or outdoors, phone us immediately. Tell your operator you're reporting a gas leak.

Then tell the location. We'll have a serviceman there right away. Please be on hand when he arrives to help him locate the leak as fast as possible. Our crews are on duty and our emergency phone is manned 24 hours a day.

If you smell natural gas indoors, leave the building immediately and call us from the nearest phone. Don't flip light switches or use any electric equipment, including the telephone, inside a building where there's a gas leak. Don't light matches or candles. Don't try to find the leak yourself.

Your cooperation in reporting gas leaks can save lives.

Watchdog for state cost controls named

Governor James R. Thompson has announced that Robert K. Hall has been named deputy director in the Department of Administrative Services for management evaluation and cost control.

"It is time for us to again look at ways to reduce the cost of state government. This is critical during these times of a tight budget. The experiences of the Governor's Cost Control task Force suggest that many of these reductions can best be done internally," Thompson said.

"In Robert Hall, we have found someone who has exactly this kind of experience in private industry. I'm happy we can bring young and experienced people into state government."

Thompson said Hall will examine the state's printing operation and the way it is maintained, the state's process for leasing property and the way the state purchases materials and an examination of the most effective way to maintain the state's fleet of vehicles.

The governor said Hall also will be asked to review the state's garage system, the current electronic data processing system and whether responsibilities overlap agencies in certain areas.

Many of the suggested areas of study come from within the Department of Administrative Services, Thompson said.

(Hall withdrew as a Republican candidate for Comptroller recently.) Hall, 31, most recently was director of purchasing and manager of industrial engineering for the Oil-Dri Corporation in Chicago, where he was responsible for the purchase and inventory control of $3 million in goods used in plant operations. He developed and implemented computerized inventory control and computerized purchase order control systems.

From 1976 to 1979 before joining Oil-Dri, Hall served as a management consultant at A. T. Kearney Incorporated in Chicago. From 1975 to 1976 he was a corporate industrial engineer for United Airlines and for the three years previous to that he worked in a variety of jobs for Mobil Oil.

Hall, who began Feb. 1, will earn an annual salary of $39,000 as deputy director.

BECKY DUTKO ENDS BAS. Army Pvt. Becky A. Dutko, daughter of Frank and Sara Dutko of 1808 Fifth St., Madison, has completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C.

During the training, students receive instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, military history and traditions.

Dutko is a 1981 graduate of Madison Senior High School.

Jeff Turner ends basic

Airman Jeff A. Turner, son of Jerry C. and Dana F. Turner of 5175 Old Alton Road, Granite City, has been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airman who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the aircraft maintenance field. The airman is a 1979 graduate of Granite City High School North.

PONTOON FIRE. Long Lake volunteer firemen extinguish a blaze at the Cuvar family home, 4243 Breckenridge Lane, Pontoon Beach, yesterday. The fire caused an estimated $19,000 damage to the property and $10,000 to the contents. Fireman Richard McIntosh slipped on ice while carrying an exhaust fan and injured his back. He was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. The firefighting effort required nearly two hours.

Three fires in area

Local firemen were kept busy in the 24 hour period ending this morning as three fires erupted, causing tens of thousands of dollars in damage.

The first fire was at 11:35 a.m. Wednesday at the Cuvar family home, 4243 Breckenridge Lane, when a water heater vent pipe was believed to have overheated and set wood on fire. The fire caused an estimated $29,000 damage, including $19,000 damage to the structure and the rest to its contents.

Long Lake Volunteer Fireman Richard McIntosh injured his back when he slipped on ice while carrying a fan and he was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Fifteen firefighters, including three junior firemen, fought the blaze for nearly two hours.

At 2 p.m. Wednesday, fire caused about $10,500 damage to the home of Bill Worthen, 4415 Wabash Ave. Children playing with matches and candles were believed to have caught the bed on fire and it spread through the bedroom and bathroom.

Granite City and Long Lake firemen fought the blaze for about one hour. Damage was estimated at $8,000 to the house and $2,500 to its contents. Mitchell firemen stood by at the Long Lake fire station, in case another call was received.

At 2:35 a.m. today, fire broke out in a mobile home at 4734 Lake Drive, lot 8, and Long Lake and Mitchell firefighters were called to the scene. The fire occurred while the owner was hospitalized and no one was at home, firemen said.

The call for firefighters came from a CB operator, who reported the mobile home was in flames. The rear end was destroyed and there was extensive smoke and fire damage to the rest of the structure.

Reports on the estimated damage and owner were not available today.

Place trash at curbs

Granite City residents are requested to place all trash for pick-ups on curbs until further notice rather than in alleys.

Emerald Dawes, city health inspector, said snow conditions have made alley pick-ups impossible for the city's contracted trash collectors.

Dawes said city snow removal equipment is too large to clear small alleyways and therefore the request is being made to put all trash for pick-up on city curbs.

Trash collections will not begin until Monday due to the road conditions.

40 tires cut today; nab 2

Approximately 40 tires were slashed on autos today at Woodrome Oldsmobile, 19th Street and Madison Avenue. Two suspects were captured near there at 4:30 a.m.

The loss was estimated at several thousand dollars. Many of the damaged cars were new 1982 Oldsmobiles.

When Granite City police nabbed two Granite Cityans, aged 19 and 18, officers confiscated from them two retractable razor knives.

Questioning indicated that the two were unhappy with the auto agency because they had shoveled deep snow from a large area of its parking lot early last week and were not paid.

One quoted an agency representative as voicing displeasure with the quality of the shoveling work they had done, and refusing to pay them. The pair then declined to return a shovel to the agency and vowed, "This isn't the end of it."

Free cheese-21,000 pounds of it

About 21,000 pounds of cheese will be distributed in Quad-Cities public housing areas and selected neighborhoods sites as part of a nationwide U.S. Department of Agriculture cheese surplus distribution plan.

Tri-Cities Area United Way will be distributing 9,000 pounds of cheese after delivery from a state region storage site in Alton.

"We are going to be pretty well limited to housing projects only," said Larry Miller, executive director of the United Way.

David Morgan, director of the Granite City Housing Authority, will provide storage for the 9,000 pounds of cheese at Kirkpatrick Homes on Wednesday. "Arriving in Granite City hopefully by 9:15 a.m.," Miller said.

Miller said cheese in five-pound blocks will be given out free at Kirkpatrick Homes in Granite City, Lee Wright Homes in Venice, and Caresche Grenzer Homes in Madison.

The exact day of distribution has not yet been determined, said Miller. He hoped trucks would take the cheese from the Kirkpatrick Homes site to the other housing sites the day the cheese arrives on Wednesday.

Each five-pound block will be given for every three members in a family unit, thus some families may receive more than one block of cheese. Those receiving cheese will be asked to sign a government waiver.

Agencies to assist in the distribution will be the Madison County Urban League, Catholic Charities, Protestant Welfare, Co-ordinated Youth Services, Salvation Army, Tri-City Chapter of the American Red Cross, United Way Membership Agencies.

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission will be distributing 12,000 pounds of cheese to anyone who requests the cheese at three local distribution sites, according to Rueben Williams, director of EOC. Williams said he hoped those with the greatest need for the cheese would be those receiving the cheese first, but there will be no eligibility requirements for the EOC cheese plan.

The EOC cheese is expected to arrive in the area on Wednesday and distribution is tentatively scheduled to begin Thursday.

Old Logan School in Granite City will be the distribution site for the Granite City and Pontoon area. About 1,250 pounds of cheese will be given away at that point.

Residents of Venice, Madison, Lovejoy and Eagle Park can receive their cheese at Darbar School, the Venice Community Center and Johnson School. A total of 2,500 pounds of cheese will be given away at those sites.

Williams said those receiving cheese will be asked to fill out a confidential survey chart containing questions on the persons income, number of children and employment status.

EOC distribution sites will be open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. The cheese will be given away on a first come first served basis.

Reservations for BPW dinner meet

Reservations for the Granite City Business and Professional Women's annual "Foundation" dinner may be made prior to 5 p.m. Monday by calling 452-2777, it was announced today by Sharon Beckett, Foundation chairman.

The dinner meeting will take place at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 17, at Charlie's Restaurant.

Guest speaker will be Mary Rottman, first associate director of BPW. She is a charter member of the Highland BPW Club. Currently a member of the Illinois BPW Foundation Committee, Mrs. Rottman also served for two years as District 14 Foundation chairman and in the same post with her local club. Any working woman in the Quad-City area is invited to attend the dinner.

HOOKS TO SPEAK

Benjamin Hooks, president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), will speak Wednesday, Feb. 17, on blacks in relation to Reaganomic policy, as the highlight of Black Culture Week at St. Louis University, Feb. 14 to 21. The address will take place at 7 p.m. in Carlo Auditorium of Tegeler Hall, 3550 Lindell Blvd. Further information about any of the Black Culture Week events is available from the University's Black Student Alliance, 1-314-658-2814.

Governor meets with Reagan

Governor James R. Thompson met with President Ronald Reagan Monday morning to discuss the president's "New Federalism" proposal.

The president asked seven governors to meet with him Monday morning to discuss his "New Federalism" program to turn back some federal programs to the state and local governments while taking over others. This will give us a clearer picture of what the future holds for state-federal relationships and provide the governors an opportunity to talk directly with the president about our opinions and concerns," Thompson said before the event.

The meeting was at the White House with President Reagan and Governors Thompson, Richard A. Snelling of Vermont, George Busbee of Georgia, Scott

Matheson of Utah, Lamar Alexander of Tennessee, William Milliken of Michigan and Robert Ray of Iowa. The Governors met with White House aide Richard Williamson before Reagan joined the group at 11 a.m.

In addition to that meeting, Thompson met with the Illinois Congressional Delegation at 8:30 a.m. Monday to discuss efforts to restore federal funding cuts from the Job Service and Work Incentive programs.

More veterans use GI educational rights

A recently published study of GI Bill usage over a 12 year period indicates that more Vietnam Era veterans used their educational entitlements than has been previously reported.

A congressionally mandated study, "The Utilization of Educational Entitlements by Veterans of the Post-Korean Conflict and Vietnam Era," was prepared by Research Applications, Inc., of Rockville, Md.

The independent study used records from over eight million veterans from June, 1966, through September, 1978, to determine the extent to which eligible veterans had utilized their GI Bill entitlements and how many veterans had successfully completed their programs of education or attained their educational or vocational objectives. Also, over 11,000 personal interviews from VA's 1979 National Survey of Veterans were used.

Highlights from this 399 page study include:

The percentage of veterans trained has increased over time from 60 percent among peacetime Post-Korean conflict veterans to 72 percent among veterans who served during the Vietnam Era only.

Three quarters of the veterans who trained after discharge used some form of VA educational assistance, and an average of 60 percent completed training or reached an intermediate goal.

The main reason cited by veterans for using VA educational benefits was to get or qualify for a better job.

The study debunks the "Vietnam walkaway phenomenon" (veterans who began training after release from active duty discontinued their training a short time later). The study indicates that more peacetime veterans left training than did Vietnam Era veterans.

The state of California had the highest number of veterans who trained (918,000)—that's 14 percent of the national total, while the state of Alaska had the lowest number, 2 percent or 9,927 veterans.

For the entire Post-Korean period, about 60 percent of the veterans attended institutions of higher learning. More than 72 percent of all veterans interviewed stated they were satisfied with the information they had received about VA benefits before entering educational programs.

Almost 80 percent of the veterans interviewed stated they were satisfied with the amount of financial assistance received, and 81 percent said they received their GI Bill checks in a timely fashion. Almost 90 percent said their checks were accurate.

When asked to rate the effectiveness of the federal government in covering the educational expenses of veterans, more than 70 percent judged the government to be effective.

Since the inception of the original World War II GI Bill in 1944, nearly 18 million men and women have used one of the three GI Bills at an expense of about $51 billion. The Post-Korean GI Bill permits a veteran to use education benefits within 10 years following discharge from service, or by Dec. 31, 1980, whichever is earlier.

A new program which requires financial participation by service personnel is available for those who entered the military after Dec. 31, 1976.

County Art Show May 14

The 16th annual Madison County Town and Country Amateur Art Show will be held from May 14 to May 16 at Overbecks Paint and Wallpaper Store, 130 N. Main St., Edwardsville. Chairman of this year's event is Sam Fazio of Edwardsville.

Serving with Fazio on the Town and Country Show committee are Rose Ann Sullenger, Helen Klutner, Edith Herman, Vera Jagielski, Mary Ann Parrish and Dorothy Riegler. Edwardsville; Roger Hoover, Vincent Ashal and Eva Meadows of Granite City; and Bobby Tevabaus of Collinsville.

The show is open to any amateur artist 18 years of age or older. Entry forms and rules will be available on Feb. 19 at the Madison County Extension office, 900 Hillsboro Ave., Edwardsville, at which time they will be mailed to previous artists, guilds and art-related businesses. Anyone wishing to be placed on this mailing list may call the above office at 656-8400. Deadline for entry forms will be April 28 at 5 p.m.

Works entered in this year's show will be judged by Dr. Thomas Kovacs of Urbana, associate professor of Art with the University of Illinois. Works earning blue ribbons at the local show will be eligible to compete in a regional Town and Country Art Show to be held June 4-6, in St. Clair Square Mall, Fairview Heights. Works receiving blue ribbons at the regional show are then eligible to compete in the state Town and Country exhibition to be held next fall in Urbana.

A variety of art works, of any medium, are being sought for the local show and may include: paintings, photographs, prints, drawings, woodcarvings, needlework, ceramics, sculptures, jewelry, soft sculptures and weavings.

The Town and Country Amateur Art program is sponsored by the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, the Cooperative Extension Service, the College of Fine and Applied Arts, the College of Applied Life Studies and the Office of Continuing Education and Public Service.

Althoff nips South in wrestling, 29-26

BELLEVILLE — Belleville Althoff surprised Granite City South 29-26 in a dual wrestling meet at Belleville Monday.

The meet was originally scheduled for Friday, Feb. 5, but was postponed because of hazardous road conditions.

"We were behind 25-2 after the first five matches, and it was uphill from there," South coach Bill Schmitt said.

The only points South scored in those first five matches came when the Warriors Rob Steiner tied Dave Bour of Althoff 4-4 in the 105 match.

South's Sean McGovern (96), Jason Waggener (112) and Darren Hasty (119) were pinned while Joe DeShawn (126) lost a major decision to Bob Herbert.

South came back in the heavier weights, but Althoff's edge was too much for the Warriors to handle.

Sam Gibbons (138) won by decision, Mark Dowdy (145) decisioned Chris Sieta 10-2, Jon Frangoulis (155) decisioned James Schmitt 12-1, Ken Dowdy (167) pinned Ed Kerregas in 3:18, and Doug Graham (HWT) defeated Jeff Henne 5-4 in a decision.

Mike Niebur (138) and Dave Brown (185) both tied their opponents in their matches.

"This (our 16-6 record) is our worst record since 1968," Schmitt said. "We hope this is a good learning experience for our team."

South wrestles in the district meet at Bethalto

Friday and Saturday and travels to Granite City North Monday for a 4 p.m. dual meet.

Jones again on U.S. Soccer Honor Team

Mark Jones, a sophomore at Belleville Area College, has been selected as a member of the National Soccer Coaches Association of America 1981 McDonald's Soccer team.

Jones, who plays sweeper for the BAC Dutchmen, is the son of Gene and Katherine Jones of Granite City.

Mike Moore, soccer coach at BAC, said, "Mark is the finest defender I have had at Belleville Area College. He possesses all the physical tools to be a top Division I player."

This is the second year Jones was named to the McDonald's team. He was named earlier to the Illinois All-State Team and first team All-Midwest. Last season he was chosen to travel with the United States National Youth Team to a tournament in Switzerland.

Jones is only one of three All-American at BAC in any sport. Others were soccer player Mike McMonigle, now with the Kansas City Comets, and Dennis McMonigle, an All-American on the Dutchmen NJCAA National qualifying team in 1975.

"We've won the last 24 district tournaments," Schmitt said. "If we win this year, it will be 25, but the odds are against us repeating this year are great. It's very likely we'll be fighting with Civic Memorial and Edwardsville for third place."

"North is the big favorite to win, and since third place qualifiers go on to the sectionals this year, they can qualify 10 wrestlers for the sectionals," Schmitt said.

North coach Walt Whitaker is confident that 10 Steelers will qualify for the sectional tournament, and he is certain North is the team to beat in the district.

"I'm sure we're the team everyone else is after," Whitaker said. "I would hope we would qualify 10 wrestlers since the top three

Trojans' streak now 9-0

By TERESA GULL of the Press-Record
MADISON — Madison had a little fun in its 107-71 trouncing of Highland St. Paul last night.

They should have had a little fun. After all, scoring over 100 points in a game doesn't happen every night. And when it does, the crowd and the team go wild. Especially when the opposing team is losing by 31 points.

With 1:58 remaining in the game and the score 98-69, Michael Young, a Madison reserve, stepped up to the free throw line. He sank his first free throw, putting Madison at the century mark. He also made his second free throw, giving Madison 101 points.

The crowd was happy. The goal of scoring over 100 points had been obtained. When a team is winning by over 30 points, aiming for the 100 point mark gives the players a little extra incentive to play hard.

Larry Graham, head coach for Madison, wasn't trying to run up the score. He substituted freely in the second quarter and the second half. No matter who was shooting the ball for Madison, however, the ball went through the hoop.

"I hate to run scores up," Graham said. "We're just shooting the ball well. We're playing a lot better offensively."

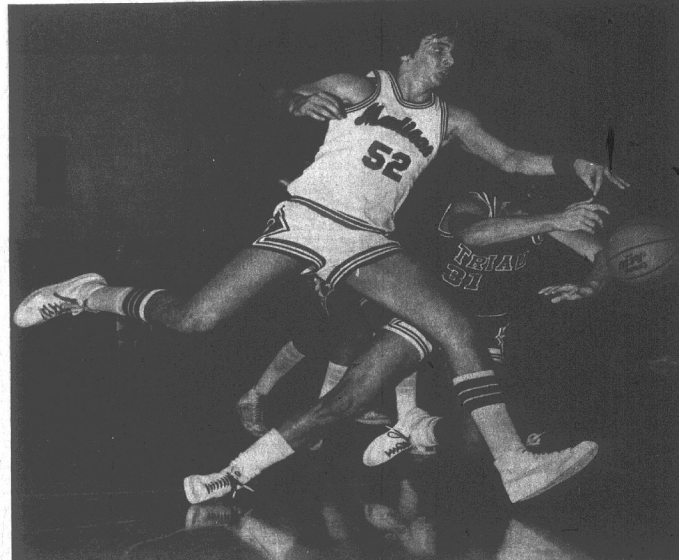

Madison's offense is starting to run more smoothly. The players are playing as a team instead of individuals. They are passing the ball to the man who is open closest to the basket instead of taking the long outside shot.

The closer to the basket, the higher percentage of shot it is. Last night against St. Paul, the majority of Madison's shots were within the 10 foot range. The results were positive.

"It takes a long time to do it. We've always had the ability to do it," Graham said. "Some of the guys are playing better. Mark Magdet is playing better."

Madget led Madison in scoring with 23 points. He scored 10 of those points in the first half.

Cougar women triumph

EDWARDSVILLE — A busy week of basketball is on tap for Head Coach Wendy Hedberg and the women's basketball team at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville as they play three games in just four days, including two games away from Edwardsville.

Last night (Wednesday), the Cougar women ripped Millikin U. of Decatur, 73-40, as all five of the SIUE starters posted double figures: Susan Blythe, 20;

Helen Steinkamp, 16; Nancy Swain, 13; Sue Dressler, 12; and Denise Schanke, 10.

Last Saturday, the women Cougars pushed their record one step closer to the 500 mark as they defeated Lincoln College, 63-52, to give them six victories in 17 outings. Reserve forward Lori Larsen came off the bench to lead the Cougars' scoring attack in one of the most balanced offensive drives in SIUE history. Larsen, a 5'10" junior from reserves could be starters for many other schools.

"Our bench is playing well," Graham said. "They see the starters play hard so the bench plays hard. They set the tone."

In addition to Madgett's 23 points, Shannon Menason added 16 points and Carvell Claggett scored 17 points.

Mark Zarr also contributed 10 points.

Graham admits the team has improved greatly since the beginning of the season. He knows, however, they have a long way to go before they are playing with the same caliber as last year's team, the Illinois Class A champions.

Melrose Park, connected on six field goals for 12 points, while teammates Denise Schanke, Mona Mittenius, Helen Steinkamp and Sue Dressler each added 10 points. Nancy Swain chipped in seven points, while Barb Streeter and Brigitte Wells rounded out the scoring for SIUE with two points each.

The Cougars also turned in one of the hottest shooting performances of the season in the second half against Lincoln as they connected on 55.6 percent of their shots from the field to open up a slim 26-24 advantage at halftime. The Cougars also outrebounded Lincoln, 46-42, on their way to their sixth victory of the season.

Following their weekend games away from Edwardsville, the Cougars return home to play Harris-Stowe College in a rescheduled game Tuesday, Feb. 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the Edwardsville High School gymnasium.

Hartwick is Junior College All-American

Perry Hartwick, a sophomore at Belleville Area College, was chosen to the National Junior College Athletic Association All-American team.

Hartwick, the son of Don and June Hartwick of Granite City, was earlier picked on the All-State and All-Midwest teams.

Hartwick played midfield his freshman season and then moved to striker where he led the Dutchmen in scoring with 13 goals and nine assists.

Paul Bratner at 96, Dan Regna at 185, and Les Henry at 132 appear to be Edwardsville's top wrestlers. Wood River has a heavyweight, Scott Simmons, who is contender at that class. Simmons weighs near 300 pounds.

The top three wrestlers in each class qualify for the state dual sectionals Feb. 19-20.

South and North mat teams in District

By ROGER KRAMER for the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Bill Schmitt, coach of the Granite City South wrestling team, has led South and Granite City High School to 24 consecutive district championship. He expects his winning streak to end this weekend.

Both Granite City South and Granite City North will wrestle Friday and Saturday in a HESA Class AA district meet at Civic Memorial High School in Bethalto. Although Schmitt's district winning streak may end, the district championship may stay in Granite City.

The Steelers, 19-0 in dual meets this season, are the favorite to win the district title. If Schmitt is correct, the Warriors' streak will be broken.

"We've won the last 24 district tournaments," Schmitt said. "If we win this year, it will be 25, but the odds are against us repeating this year are great. It's very likely we'll be fighting with Civic Memorial and Edwardsville for third place."

"North is the big favorite to win, and since third place qualifiers go on to the sectionals this year, they can qualify 10 wrestlers for the sectionals," Schmitt said.

North coach Walt Whitaker is confident that 10 Steelers will qualify for the sectional tournament, and he is certain North is the team to beat in the district.

"I'm sure we're the team everyone else is after," Whitaker said. "I would hope we would qualify 10 wrestlers since the top three places qualify for the sectionals this year.

"Our kids are pretty happy about the chance to stop South's streak. Unless we get a lot of injuries, we'll have a good chance to do it," Whitaker said.

Colin Davis at 96, Greg Nemeth at 105, Steve Smith at 119, and Rod Unger at 132 are North's likely qualifiers in the lighter weights. Scott Corey, North's 155 pounder who is 29-0 for the season, Monte Kesler at 145, Bob Patton at 167, John Morris at 185, and Dave Owens at heavyweight are also probable sectional qualifiers.

Dave Bowles at 112 and Rick Brown at 138 are also contenders for qualifying spots for the Steelers.

Meanwhile, South is a very young team, and the Warriors' 16-6 indicates they are taking their lumps this year. Schmitt does not expect a lot of his wrestlers to qualify this year.

South's strength lies in the heavier weights. Jon Frangoulis at 155, Ken Dowdy at 167, Dave Brown at 185, and Doug Graham at heavyweight are South's top wrestlers. Sam Gibbons at 132 is also a possible qualifier.

The Granite City North-Granite City South wrestling meet has been rescheduled for 4 p.m. Monday, Feb. 15, at North High School.

This was the second time the meet had been rescheduled. The meet was originally scheduled for Feb. 4 and rescheduled for Feb. 8 because of hazardous road conditions. Bad weather conditions also forced school to be closed Monday, and the meet had to be rescheduled again.

According to North coach Walt Whitaker, the match will be held at an earlier time because North had already planned a freshman orientation session Monday evening.

The meet was not scheduled for this week because both North and South both compete in the district wrestling tournament at Bethalto Friday and Saturday.

North will put its 19-0 dual meet record on the line. South is 16-6 this season.

However, many of South's wrestlers in the lower weight have losing records, and that is why Schmitt is expecting his streak to be broken.

"Sometimes, a kid with a losing record can come on strong in the districts. It's possible, but I'm not looking for it to happen this year," Schmitt said.

Schmitt feels the change from only two qualifiers to three this year will help South qualify its wrestlers.

"In the past, we would qualify seven or eight wrestlers, and this year it will be considerably less. It will be easier for us since we have three wrestlers qualifying," Schmitt said.

Whitaker thinks the rule change will help North. "It can help a lot of teams who have top flight wrestlers," Whitaker said. "Now many GRANITE CITY—A week from this Sunday night (Feb. 21), the baseball-loving community of southwestern Illinois, which produced such brilliant players as Red Schoendienst and many, many others, will take time to look back in fond memory to the career of a man, Roy E. Lee, who touched many men and women of this area.

On the night of Sunday, Feb. 21, a dinner and "roast" will be given the Old Gray Fox, Lee, at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Route 143 east of Edwardsville. Tickets are: $25 per couple and $15 per person and may be ordered by calling: Pat Peterson, 618-656-9192, or writing to him at: 457 Hoenh Street, Edwardsville, Ill. 62025.

Two former players of Lee's at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, where he started the baseball program in 1968 and directed it until his retirement three years ago, John (Champ) Summers, and Dennis (Herbie) Werth, made it to the major leagues and will be on hand to honor the veteran mentor. Summers is currently a member of the Detroit Tigers, while Werth is with the New York Yankees.

At least 200—plus other Cougar baseball players—have ordered tickets for the dinner and right now it looks like 400 friends of Lee will attend.

Serving as the dinner's Master of Ceremonies will be Granite City's own Jim Greenwald, who lettered twice for the Cougars. He currently manages a local sports club, the Spalding's Granite City Racquetball club, and has been a key member of the Southwestern Illinois Civics semi-pro baseball team headquartered in Edwardsville but play games in Granite City (South High), Belleville, Collinsville and Alton.

Greenwald played several years of pro ball and then joined the Civics the past three years. He led the team last year with a .355 batting average and blasted six fourbaggers.

Lee, himself a pro league player good enough to make it to the majors as a pitcher with the New York Giants (late in 1945), also had a brilliant record coaching one of the best semi-pro baseball teams ever developed in the United States, the Iron Workers of Collinsville back around 1959 and 1960. They played in the old Ban Johnson league and were constantly in contention for national championships.

The best hitter on the Iron Workers was a native of Madison, Dan Reilly. Reilly not only was a standout player for the Iron Workers but he went on to earn All-American honors on the University of Missouri Tigers under legendary Hy Simmons. He still holds the Big Eight batting championship, a mind-boggling .553 batting average.

Reilly and his wife, Tony, will help "roast" Lee at the dinner.

In addition to former Cougar baseball players at the dinner, there will be at least 40 ex-St. Louis University stars who were on teams which represented the Bills at three Little World Series of collegiate baseball at Omaha. Speaking for the Bills will be Jim Dix, currently head varsity coach of the university of Missouri, St. Louis Rivermen, Jim and his brother, Tom, played for Coach Lee at St. Louis. Jim's bunch finished third at Omaha in 1965 after losing twice to one of the greatest collegiate teams of all time, Arizona State U.

Lee, who served the Civics as manager four years ago when the club was organized but had to retire because of ill health, will return to active duty as pitching coach. Last year, Greg Patton, a native of Granite City, was the semi-pro club's manager. He played his collegiate ball at Illinois State and was a member of that school's team which won the national crown in 1969.

A LOOK BACKWARD IN TIME.

Members of the 1959 Ironworkers semi-pro baseball team, which headquartered at Collinsville, pose for their picture after winning a trip to the Island of Hawaii. The Ironworkers, coached by Roy E. Lee, formerly varsity coach at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, was one of the nation's best semi-pro teams. Dan Reilly, lower right had in front row, led the team in hitting both in 1959 and 1961. Reilly, a native of Madison, went on to star four years at the University of Missouri at Columbia under the coaching of the legendary Hy Simmons. In fact, Reilly's top batting average at Mizzou of .593 is still top in Big Eight Conference records. He'll "roast" Lee at the dinner for the Old Gray Fox Sunday, Feb. 21, at Edwardsville's K of C Hall.

Cougars meet UMSL tonight, seek revenge

EDWARDSVILLE — Hoping to get back on the winning track, head coach Tom Pugliese and the basketball Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville return to the St. Louis Checkerdom tonight, (Thursday, Feb. 11), for a rematch against the Rivermen of the University of Missouri-St. Louis in a scheduled 7 p.m. tip-off.

The Cougars, who saw their record slip to 7-12 last Saturday with an overtime loss to the University of Missouri-Kansas City, will battle the Rivermen as part of a college basketball double-header as St. Louis University and the University of Alabama-Birmingham look horns in the nightcap.

The Cougars will also stage two additional rematches this weekend as they travel to Chicago to battle the Illinois Institute of Technology, Saturday at 7:30 p.m., and onto St. Xavier College, Sunday at 3 p.m. Earlier this season, in Edwardsville, the Cougars handed Tech an 85-65 setback and defeated St. Xavier, 70-62.

In a season filled with streaks, the Cougars rebounded from their season-opening eight-game losing streak to win the next six contests before dropping a disappointing 69-62 decision to the nationally-ranked Eagles of Indiana State University at Evansville in a game played at Collinsville. Since then, the SIUE quintet has defeated St. Xavier (70-62) but has fallen on hard times again with a three-game losing streak losing to Rutgers University (57-45), Southeast Missouri State University (61-62) and the University of Missouri-Kansas City (73-62), in overtime.

In tonight's key match-up against the UMSL Rivermen, the Cougars will be out to avenge an 89-67 setback. The Rivermen, who hold a 17-11 series advantage over SIUE, received strong performances from 6'5" Ron Tyler, 6'0" guard Bob McCormack and 6'3" forward Tim Jones to upend the Cougars in the Mark Twain Building, Dec. 9. Tyler posted a team-high 18 points, while McCormack added 17 and Jones clipped in 14 points. The Rivermen also had the hot hand from the field as they outshot the Cougars 55.2 percent to a very cool 33.8 percent. Randal Jones of Madison led the way for SIUE as the game's senior collected a grand-high 28 points and 10 rebounds.

Donkey cage game at South

The ninth annual donkey basketball game in a long series over the years is pitting a team made up of faculty members of both Granite City South and North High Schools against a squad of player made up of students from the same pair of schools will be played next Tuesday night at the Granite City South High Warriors' gym.

The series is now tied at 4-4 and odds-makers have the students' squad as heavy favorites to win this year's bloody battle.

This annual cage classic, which is only slightly less important than the finals at Champaign in mid-March (at least to the participants), is sponsored by the Boys' Life Club at each school.

Tickets, which may be purchased at either school are: $2 in advance and $3 at the gate the night of the game. Also, tickets may be ordered by phoning: Greg Patton, 677-1512, or Harry Lang, 931-0460.

Since the donkey game is annually a complete sell-out, sponsors are warning fans that the Granite City Fire Marshall has ordered the gym doors closed when the crowd reaches 2,500.

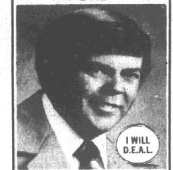

by Harold Chitwood

Carburetor, choke and spark plugs are crucial to winter driving. If not recently done, have your car's engine tuned. Cars with conventional ignition systems should have spark plugs replaced every 12,000 miles or at least annually. Cars with electronic ignition systems can go for longer periods between changes. With wear, the electrodes become rounded. This results in a widened spark gap and a retardation of the engine's timing. The formation of dirt on the plug can also result in inefficient gasoline usage. Grime on the electrode makes it harder for the spark to bridge the gap.

Winter driving is harder on our automobiles than at any other time of the year. How you take care of your car at this time can save you money and keep you and your family safe. When your car or truck needs minor or major repairs, BIG 4 CHEVROLET COMPANY asks you consider us. We're easy to find in Collinsville at 1820 Vandalia Street and will do whatever is necessary to keep your costs at a most reasonable level. We are here Monday thru Friday 7-6 and our phone is 345-5444. All major credit cards welcomed. We also wish you all a Happy Valentine's Day.

AUTO TIP:
Porous insulation surrounding the ignition wire can result in failure to start in damp days.

Madison disputes study finding it most expensive city around

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Madison city officials say they are appalled at the inaccuracies in a survey released last week which lists Madison as the most expensive city in Madison County.

For one thing, Madison Comptroller Al Hudzik says, the survey lists a $10 a year "wheel tax" for two city vehicle stickers per family. Madison does not charge for city stickers, except those purchased after the deadline. Then, the cost is $5 each, or $10 for a two-car family, but most families get their stickers when they are free, Hudzik explained.

He said that is but one of the errors of the survey, done by Kevin Rose, a student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for the Wood River City Council. Hudzik said, is that the survey counts the new utility taxes Madison has imposed, but fails to note the approximate 40 percent decrease in property taxes which accompanied the utility tax package.

"It's just wrong," Hudzik said, noting that he would have to have Rose's worksheets to determine how the figures were calculated before he could accurately show the tax costs in Madison as compared to other cities in the survey.

Rose contended that an average Madison family with a home assessed at $10,000 ($30,000 market value), pays approximately $317 per year in city taxes. Second highest is Venice, with $250 in taxes on the same family per year. Alton was ranked third at $256, Granite City fourth at $239, Collinsville fifth at $195, Highland sixth at $192 and South Roxana eighth at $186.

Other cities in the survey, and the annual taxes imposed locally, were Edwardsville, $178; Alton, $184; Highland at $178, South Roxana at $175 and Bethalto, $171 per year.

Fees dwindle for the other cities down to only $71.68 for Roxana residents. Madison, Venice and Granite City are listed in Rose's study as paying an average of $112.66 for water fees, $54.80 for sewer fees and $52.80 for utility taxes, which are included in the property tax rates.

Despite the lower fees here, Madison and Venice continue at the top of Rose's list as most expensive cities in the county for local taxes and fees.

Combining the two annual costs shows the estimated average local government expense in Madison to be $484 per family. In Venice, the combined total is $457, Rose contends. Others, in order, are Alton at $441; Maryville, $416; Collinsville, $414; Granite City, $406; Highland $374; South Roxana, $361; Glen Carbon, $350; Edwardsville, $339; Bethalto, $323; East Alton, $284; Wood River, $248; Hartford, $222; Roxana, $189 and Troy, $187.

Rose notes that the costs are affected in Madison, Maryville, Highland, Bethalto and Hartford by lack of a full-time fire department. Maryville and Troy government costs are reduced because garbage collection is not provided by the cities and residents have to pay for private haulers to collect the garbage.

Rose lists nine Madison families with a home assessed at $10,000 ($30,000 market value), pay approximately $317 per year in city taxes. Second highest is Venice, with $250 in taxes on the same family per year. Alton was ranked third at $256, Granite City fourth at $239, Collinsville fifth at $195, Highland sixth at $192 and South Roxana eighth at $186.

"significant conclusions" in his study. One is that Madison, Venice and Alton have a utility tax on their water, supplied by a private water company, and they are in the top three in terms of expense of living.

He contends that six of the most expensive eight cities have a utility tax on gas and electric bills while Hartford is the only city in the less bottom eight to have such a tax.

"Although the first (most expensive) six cities do not have a user fee for refuse collection, five of them pay for collection solely through the property tax, which could partially explain their higher property rates," he says.

He adds, "Maryville and Troy do not provide any refuse collection service, leaving it up to the individual citizen to contract the service."

Alton, Venice, Madison and Granite City are serviced by private water companies. These four cities have four of the five highest water rates.

"Six of the first eight cities have a utility tax on their phone bills collected for them by Illinois Bell, while none of the bottom eight have such a tax."

"Eleven of the 16 cities levy a wheel tax with the average cost being $5 per car."

"It would cost a family in Troy more than 2½ times as much money to live in Madison, and twice as much to live in Highland."

"Six cities collect more revenue from user fees than from taxes," Rose concludes.

Madison city officials disagree with the figures and many of the conclusions. Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler called the figures "enlightening," but did not support or challenge their accuracy.

Rites held for Mrs. Yurkovich

A funeral mass was held at 10 a.m. Wednesday, Feb. 10, at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church, for Mrs. Katherine Mulch Yurkovich, 55, of 2929 Faith Ave. The Rev. Francis Tebanga officiated at the service.

She died at 1 a.m. Sunday, Feb. 7, 1982, at Barnes Hospital, following a two-year illness.

Mrs. Yurkovich was born in Madison and was a lifelong resident of the Quad Cities. She was a member of St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church.

Her husband, John Yurkovich Sr., died in December 1960.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Robert (Bernadette) Pritchard, Misses Darleen, Sharon and Marleen Yurkovich; two sons, John J. Jr. and David Yurkovich, all of Granite City; her mother, Mrs. Mary Mulch, Madison; two brothers, Charles Mulch, St. Louis, and John Mulch, Granite City, and one grandchild.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

STATE BALANCE DOWN TO $102 MILLION

The state's general funds' available balance at the end of January dropped to $102 million, its lowest month-end level in over three years ($86 million on June 30, 1978), with state spending outpacing incoming revenues.

State Comptroller Roland W. Burris said the Jan. 31 balance of $102 million was down $66 million from the previous month and was $101 million lower than the balance of one year ago; $200 million is the "warning" level.

General revenues for the first seven months of fiscal 1982 were $4.489 billion, while expenditures were $4.584 billion.

The Granite City Fire Department responded to a call at 7:45 p.m. and controlled the fire until a crew from Illinois Power Co., arrived to turn off the gas.

Firemen were on the scene until 9:30 p.m. and had layed about 31 sections of hose while fighting the fire. They estimated the damage to be between $5,000 and $5,000 to the structure.

According to Carl Mathias, area service manager, for Illinois Power Co., the Nesco Company is serviced by the Mississippi River Transmission Co., but Illinois Power crews assisted the fire department as a safety precaution until the MHT could be injured.

No one was injured during the incident and the fire did not cause any work stoppage at the local plant, the company official added.

Dance Saturday night to aid Leann Cooper & Heart Assn.

Tickets still are available and will be sold at the door for a fund-raising dance Saturday night to aid the bid of Leann Cooper to become Miss St. Louis Blues for 1982.

The dance will be from 8 p.m. Saturday until 1 a.m. at Polish Hall in Madison and will feature the music of Blue Ridge. Proceeds will go to the American Heart Association for use only in the local Illinois area.

Approximately 25 candidates for the Miss Blues honor were introduced at a Blues game in the Checkerdomes last week.

It was explained that each will collect donations for the local Heart Association chapter and the one who raises the most money for the life-saving cause will be declared Miss St. Louis Blues for the year.

Those attending Saturday's dance will be requested to make a donation of $5 per person or $8 per couple to the Heart Association. The candidate says she is hoping for several hundred persons to attend. Tickets will be available at the door and include beer, set-up and snacks.

Those unable to attend may send donations to Miss Cooper's, 4212 Maryville Road, or call 931-0644 to make arrangements.

Miss Cooper, 19, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence R. Cooper, 4212 Maryville Road. This is the third annual Miss Blues Contest.

When the gas line broke, it ignited and burned the structural framework of the storehouse, but preliminary checks on the contents showed no damage to the raw materials stored there, according to a Nesco official.

He added, the raw materials will have to undergo a thorough appraisal before they are used by the company.

TV director to visit SIUE

Robert H. Wynn of Melodan Production in Burbank, Calif., will visit the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Thursday, Feb. 25 from 10:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m.

Wynn has produced and directed television programs for the three major networks, as well as PBS and HBO. His credits include Bob Hope, Danny Thomas and Robert Goulet Specials, The Ernie Ford Show, Opryland U.S.A., NBC Pollies, the Rock Music Awards and presidential debates.

Wynn will conduct a seminar in the television studio at SIUE, addressing the subject, "One-World Communication" or "We Are in a One-World Market." The producer and director will show tapes illustrating his work experiences in Russia and China.

"His very strong feelings are based on his experiences and documentaries are produced and directed, not only at locations in this country but in such diverse cultures as China, Japan, Cuba, Russia, England, Germany, and Canada."

The purpose of Wynn's visit to the Midwest is to produce the Variety Club Telethon for KSDK-TV, which benefits emotionally and physically handicapped children of the St. Louis Metropolitan area.

On the Edwardsville campus, Wynn and a panel of mass communications students will conduct a seminar in the television studio at SIUE, addressing the subject, "One-World Communication" or "We Are in a One-World Market." The producer and director will show tapes illustrating his work experiences in Russia and China.

VA health facilities earn high ratings

Patients in Veterans' administration health care facilities gave their care high marks in a 1980 survey, but, like patients everywhere, they reflected dissatisfaction with waiting times.

"Since 1974, VA has asked patients to rate its services anonymously. Using scientific sampling techniques and safeguards to protect anonymity, the agency asked 20,000 veterans hospitalized in 1980, and some 54,000 outpatients, to complete lengthy questionnaires covering six major areas of patient care. The respondents gave the VA's medical facilities very high grades in five of six areas. Favorable responses were received from 80 percent or more of the patients on key questions related to physician care, nursing, care, food, cleanliness and their perception of "no negative events." Highest grades were received in nursing care and cleanliness, where favorable responses exceeded 90 percent.

Lowest ratings among the key components were in the area of emotional support. According to 89 percent of the inpatients, doctors should take more time to tell them how they are doing and 84 percent expressed the same complaint about nurses.

The survey made some comparisons between VA and non-VA health system experience by citing statistics from medical care attitude surveys by Louis Harris and Associates (1978), and two Gallup Polls (1977).

Also, some 6,000 VA patients reported they had been hospitalized in community hospitals within 18 months of the survey. While these comparisons show patient satisfaction levels in VA as high or higher than those in non-VA facilities, exact comparisons are not possible because the VA survey is much more comprehensive than any available from other hospital systems.

The perceived attitudes of VA physicians, generally, and staffs of radiology, laboratory, food service and canteen services were rated favorable by 92 to 96 percent of the hospitalized patients. Lowest rating dealt with waiting times. Some 34 percent of the inpatients surveyed responded that they waited too long for services. Only about 19 percent of the outpatients responded negatively on this question, reflecting a marked improvement over previous years.

The survey has been conducted biennially since 1974, and this edition marks a change to an annual basis. Survey results were summarized for each local VA medical facility, and detailed information was provided to local VA management to show how patients at their medical centers or clinics view the care they are receiving.

FRANKENSTEIN AT FRIEDMAN'S

The "Frankenstein Monster" can be seen sitting in the window of Friedman's Furniture and Hardware store at Fifth Street and Madison Avenue, Madison. The creature is part of Explorer Post 104's "Scout Week" window display. The display includes a few highlights of the post activities with pictures of the Explorers inside the CIA, with the head of the Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA) and with H. Stuart Knight, former director of the US Secret Service. The "Monster" was made by Madison Police Officer Gary Marsala and has been used in the Explorers' Halloween attraction for the past several years.

WRONG WAY TO SPRING. Rebecca Schulz of Alton sees only snow ahead as she trudges to business administration classes at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, a long way from the sun and sand promised by the sign.

FIRE PROTECTION for the Cloverleaf and east Madison areas is the subject of a meeting held at the Nameoki Township Hall Monday afternoon involving representatives of the Office of the Illinois State Fire Marshal, three fire departments and township officials. From the left, clockwise around the table are: Bill Bastion and John Pavlin, both from the fire marshal's office; Harry A. Briggs, standing, Nameoki Township supervisor and a trustee of the Long Lake Fire Department; Eddie Lee Salmond, Eagle Park Fire District trustee; Robert Strackeljohn, assistant fire chief of the State Park Fire Department; Danny Kreher, assistant fire chief of the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department, and Lee Adams, chief of the Long Lake department. The State Park Fire department will continue to assist the fire in the unincorporated areas of the township, assisted by Eagle Park, until a decision is made by the state office to which fire district the area will be assigned.

Meteorites: pieces of extinct planets?

By PROFESSOR F. HENRY FIRSCHING
SIUE School of Science & Engineering

Years ago, the idea that stones could fall from the sky was very difficult for people to accept. Despite the numerous reports of individuals seeing them fall and the discovery of these unusual objects in some peculiar locations, the skepticism persisted. However, with the development of chemical analysis techniques, convincing evidence became available.

The chemical elements in meteorites were found to be exactly the same as those we have here on earth. But meteorites usually look different than earth material. They often have some unusual crystal structures, as well as distinctive arrangements of the crystals and subunits that make up the meteorites. The most persuasive evidence probably comes from iron meteorites, which are almost pure iron and some nickel. Under normal earth weather conditions, these iron meteorites would rust and decompose in a short time. Yet iron meteorites are found lying about on the ground.

The most compelling feature about these iron meteorites is the appearance of Widmanstätten lines, a remarkable set of geometric patterns that develop when the meteorites are cut and etched with acid. Metallic crystals intermesh with one another to give a distinctive array that is unlike anything found in meteorological objects formed here on earth.

Additional information comes from impact craters found scattered around the world. These were formed when large meteorites blasted out a hole upon impact with the earth. Meteorite fragments are found in the vicinity of the crater.

There is one instance where cameras have photographed the meteor trail of an object that struck the earth and was recovered. The orbit of this meteorite extended into the asteroid belt, which is situated between Mars and Jupiter. Four other meteorites have been photographed and their calculated orbits also reach into the asteroid belt.

Unfortunately, these four meteorites were not found after they fell. Nevertheless, meteorites appear to be associated with the asteroid belt.

The asteroid belt is an unusual situation. Astronomical theory indicates that a planet should exist between Mars and Jupiter, but it is not there. Instead, there is an assortment of small objects called asteroids. More than 1,600 objects, with diameters of five miles or more, have been found in the asteroid belt. Apparently, instead of a single planet, several small planets originally occupied the region of space. Then these small planets collided and broke into numerous pieces, instead of coalescing into one planet. The fragments are the asteroids and the meteoric material that is now scattered in the region between Mars and Jupiter.

The meteorites that land on earth fit this picture of a fragmented small planet. The metal meteorites could represent the former molten interiors of small planets. The stony-metal meteorites could be samples of the inner mantle and the outer metal core. An assortment of rocky meteorites, that appear much like the rocks that form from the earth's mantle, also are found.

And, the uncommon meteorites, the carbonaceous chondrites, are soft, light, unconsolidated material that could be specimens of the crust of small planets. The entire assortment of the meteorites collected appears to be rough cross-sections of fragmented small planets. Through the years, an impressive number of meteorites has been collected. But recently, a "gold mine" of meteorites has been discovered, the continent of Antarctica. The Antarctic acts much like a big deep freezer. A meteorite can strike the Antarctic continent and lie there for hundreds or even thousands of years with only slight decomposition.

Recently, several teams of scientists have gone to Antarctica for the sole purpose of finding meteorites. They had remarkable success, and located several thousands. The total number of meteorites available for scientific study has almost doubled in the last few years. Meteorite investigation is at an all-time peak right now. Meteorite material is considered valuable because it represents the most ancient material ever located.

Most of these meteorites formed during the beginnings of the solar system and have remained unchanged. The insights gained from meteorites is profound. Hopefully, the investigations going on now will add to our store of information about the origin of our sun and our earth.

2 firemen hurt at weekend blaze

Two Venice firemen sustained ice-related injuries while fighting a blaze during the weekend at a garage with an apartment in the rear, owned by Buster Anderson, at 1207 Logan St. Captain Tom Scaturro suffered a twisted knee and Fireman Harold Koelker Jr., suffered a pulled back muscle. Both volunteer firemen reported falling on ice while fighting the fire. The garage-dwelling was totally destroyed, according to reports. Neither the cause of the blaze nor the estimated loss was recorded.

Chili Friday for everyone

Friday will be a "Chili Day," without regard to the temperature outside. Boy Scout Troop 96, will be holding the event. Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue from 11 a.m. until 7 p.m. Tickets are $2 each and include two bowls of chili, carrots and celery sticks, dessert and soda or coffee. Carryouts are available. Advanced orders for carryouts may be had by telephoning Scoutmaster Bud Charbonnier at 931-5506.

Warm hearts at Valentine dances here

"Tomorrow is Saint Valentine's Day. All in the morning betime. And I a maid at your window. To be your Valentine." — Hamlet

Actually Sunday, is Valentine's Day, but when Shakespeare wrote these Valentine lines for Ophelia in 1601, the custom in the Western Civilization of exchanging words of love and affection had been established for hundreds of years.

However, despite the cold, many will be "warm headed" toward their true loves.

Two special dances are being held during the weekend to benefit others.

The first chance to cure "cabin fever" will be from 9 p.m. Friday until 1 a.m. Saturday, as there will be the "Good Times" Valentine Dance at Polish Hall, 826 Greenwood St., Madison.

This dance is being sponsored by members of the Polish Hall committee and adult supporters of Explorer Post 104, for the benefit of the youth activities of the group. Tickets, available at the door, are $6.50 and include chicken, beer, and soda.

Food is being served at 9 p.m. with dancing to the Dave Hylla's "Good Times" band following. No one under 17 will be admitted and no one under 21 served beer.

Learn Cooper, a candidate for Miss St. Louis Blues 1982, is holding a Valentine's Dance, also at Polish Hall, to benefit the Heart Association on Saturday, Feb. 13 from 8 p.m. until 1 a.m. Sunday. Donations are $5 per couple or $5 per person and include beer, set-ups, and snacks. They will be available at the door. Music will be by "Ridge".

Senior Citizens of Granite City will have a Sweetheart Dance on Saturday from 9 p.m. at the Natwoli Recreation Center sponsored by the Granite City Senior Center.

Granite City Township will hold a dance sometime this month for its senior citizens, but the date had not been set.

Las Vegas 'gambling' at SIUE on Thursday

If your fingers itch to try your luck at the gaming tables of Las Vegas, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville may have the cure.

For 12 hours on Thursday, Goshen Lounge in the University Center will be transformed into the Goshen Casino, complete with gaming tables, entertainment and contests. Student dealers will man the tables as students try to amass play-money fortunes playing Chuck-a-Luck, Under-and-Over, Roulette, Blackjack, Craps and Beat the Dealer.

For $1, students can buy $2,000 in gambling money. A winners' auction will be held at 10 p.m. in Meridian Ballroom. More than $2,000 in prizes which have been donated by area business men will be open to bid. Besides "gambling," two contests will be held for the students. All participants will be awarded prizes.

Students dressed in swimwear may model their "tush" from behind a waist-to-head screen at 11:45 a.m. Then at 1 p.m., students disguised as their favorite celebrity may enter the Las Vegas Entertainer Look-A-Like contest.

Terri-Louise and the Glass Experience Band, Inc., will perform at 10:30 a.m. and at noon and the SIUE Improvisational Group will perform at 12:30 p.m. A dance featuring the band "Faustus" will be held in Meridian Ballroom at 8 p.m. A $1 admission will be charged.

The casino is sponsored by the University Center Board. The planners said they are betting Goshen Casino will be a sure deal to beat the winter blues. Steve Spang, University Center program director, said the casino was created in a brainstorming session. For two years, the UCB has planned a day-long event to break the monotony of winter. Last year, the Goshen Lounge was changed into a rodeo, complete with mechanical bull.

"Weather permitting," Spang said, "We are expecting Goshen Casino to be successful during the day and the night."

Park district plans special skate sessions

For an afternoon and evening skate session, the Granite City Park District Ice Rink and Recreation Center is offering two special ice skating sessions on February 12 and 13.

On Friday, Feb. 12, there will be a special ice skating session from 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Admission for this session is free. Skate rentals will be 50 cents.

On Saturday, Feb. 13, during the 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. public ice skating session, the ice rink will have a special Valentine's Day admission for all couples in attendance. The special admission of two for the price of one allows the couples in attendance to pay only one admission price instead of two.

Secretary of State Jim Edgar said Monday the number of grade crossing accidents for the year ending January was 55 percent below the number of fatalities recorded during January, 1981.

Edgar, Illinois Operation Lifesaver in reducing the number of accidents at Illinois railroad crossings.

"So far in 1982 we're off to an excellent start in reducing the number of grade crossing fatalities," Edgar said. "During January, 1981, there were 12 accident fatalities involving vehicles and two fatalities involving pedestrians. Last month there was no fatality accident involving a vehicle and one involving a pedestrian."

Edgar said morning commuters participated in ceremonies at Ridgely Yard in Springfield, kicking off Illinois Railroad Grade Crossing Safety Week, February 8-14, 1982.

"Until 1980, Illinois led the nation in railroad grade crossing accidents," Edgar said. "Through the cooperative efforts of state and local officials: the Illinois Department of Transportation, Illinois Railroad Grade Crossing Safety Council, 1981 resulted in their lowest yearly crossing accident figures since the early 1900's."

"Alcohol is a factor in many grade crossing accidents," Edgar said.

"Nationally it is estimated that above 55 percent of all fatal accidents at railroad grade crossings are 'alcohol involvement'."

The new Illinois drunk driving law, which went into effect Jan. 1, 1982, is expected to significantly reduce in railroad grade crossing fatalities by making it easier for police to detain drunk drivers from the highways."

Edgar said the problem of railroad grade crossing accidents is "one of the most serious in Illinois" because the state has the "highest density of railroad traffic in the country, with more than the nation in 34,000 miles."

"Chicago and East St. Louis have the greatest potential for railroad crossing accidents," Edgar explained, "because of their high position density of the number of railroad crossings."

Started in 1976 by the Illinois Railroad Grade Crossing Safety Council, Operation Lifesaver has worked with state and local officials to eliminate the problem through a long-pronged approach involving education, enforcement and engineering. The program involves the public about the dangers of railroad crossings and the enforcement of the traffic laws governing crossings and engineering grade crossings to make them safe for both motorists and train crews.

Earnshaw demonstration is set at SIUE

An Earthware demonstration using low temperature glazing and firing will be presented at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, Wednesday, Feb. 16 and 17.

John Donoghue, professor at Maryville College in St. Louis, will be the guest lecturer. He holds a master's degree from the Cranbrook Academy of Art in Bloomington Hills, Mich.

Donoghue will give demonstrations on the press on Tuesday from 9 a.m. to noon. He will give various techniques of pottery that afternoon from 1-4 p.m.

He will demonstrate glazing and firing techniques on Wednesday morning and present a slide lecture in the afternoon from 7-9 p.m.

The demonstration will be scheduled in the ceramics studio in Building 183 of the Wagner Complex.

The demonstration is free and open to the public. For more information, interested persons may call Dan Anderson at (618) 392-3071.

Two make college dean's list

Dr. Randall Bell, academic dean of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, announced that Elizabeth A. Slate and Mary Metcalf are included in the college's Dean's List of 1982.

The two students were the first semester of the first 82 academic year.

To earn a place on the Dean's List, a student must maintain a 3.25 grade point average, or above, on a 4.0 scale.

Slate, a senior, averaged a minimum 13-hour course load.

Metcalf is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Metcalf, 212 Lindell Blvd., Carbondale. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. 2240 Shilbire Drive.

Employee ownership—economic democracy?

(This is the twelfth in a series of 16 articles exploring "Working: Changes and Choices." In this article, social scientists William Foots Whyte of Cornell University and Joseph Raphael Blasi of Harvard University discuss the growing trend of employee ownership and managing their own companies. Copyright (c) 1982 by the Regents of the University of California.)

By WILLIAM WHYTE and JOSEPH BLASI

And debates over the merits of government ownership versus private ownership, a third alternative is emerging to capture popular interest: employee ownership.

Approximately two-thirds of the Americans queried in 1978 national survey said that they would rather work in an employee-owned company than in one owned by private investors or the government.

And current evidence indicates that an increasing number of workers are actually have this option in the years ahead.

Other countries have experimented with firms owned neither by government nor by private investors.

Yugoslav factories, Israeli kibbutzim, and the Mondragon system of workers' cooperatives in the Basque region of Spain are examples of "socially owned" industries.

While the workers do not actually own pieces of the firms, neither are the firms owned by the state or outside capitalists. Control is based upon labor, with each worker having one vote for the governing body of the firm.

All three cases have impressive records of economic growth, although Yugoslav growth slowed down in the 1970s.

Because laws and traditions are different in the United States, here "social ownership" has taken the form of employee stock ownership or cooperative ownership.

The best-known examples of the latter type of ownership are the plywood cooperatives of the Pacific Northwest.

These 16 cooperatives have, for decades, outperformed conventionally owned firms in both productivity and earnings of their worker-owners. But until a few years ago they seemed to be isolated cases, attracting little public attention.

SAVING THEIR JOBS.

The recent surge of interest in worker ownership is due to a phenomenon that emerged in the 1970s.

Facing plant shutdowns, workers, union leaders, local managers and community leaders mobilized to secure government and bank loans to buy the plants and convert them to worker ownership.

Over 50 plants—ranging in size from about 100 workers to more than 13,000 in the Chicago and Northwestern Transportation Company—have thus been saved. None of these employee-owned firms, to the best of our knowledge, has gone bankrupt.

How can employees successfully operate a plant that is abandoned by a large private company?

In 1970s, conglomerates began dumping parts of their empires. In many cases, the abandoned plants were not losing money, but the profits were not high enough to satisfy those in control.

In such cases, the employees did not need to improve efficiency to save their jobs. Initially, they were happy simply to be employed.

The solution to the shutdown problem in such cases now appears to have been deceptively simple. The workers soon wanted more of a voice in management, but the managers were so occupied with their enlarged responsibilities that they gave no thought to the need for a new style of leadership.

When Vermont Asbestos Group's board chairman, John Lupien, was asked about worker participation in decision making, he would answer: "If you own stock in General Motors, that does not give you the right to run General Motors."

Similarly, Richard Boullis, president of South Bend Lathe, wrote to one of the authors, "We tell our people they have all the advantages of ownership without any of the headaches of management."

In such cases, there are often two stages of development. At first, workers, managers, and local people have struggled together to save the plant.

The early weeks following their great achievement are marked by mutual respect and trust. Workers make no claims for influence or control, but they vaguely expect that they will be more "equal" and treated with more dignity.

Disillusionment can follow, however. When workers at Vermont Asbestos Group (VAG) found that ownership gave them no say on important management decisions, Howard Manosh, a respected local entrepreneur, was able to buy enough stock to gain control of the company.

And now John Lupien, hero of the job-saving campaign, no longer works for VAG. At South Bend Lathe, the unionizing contradiction between workers' sharing in ownership and not sharing in decision making precipitated a bitter strike in September 1980.

However, a few months later union and management joined forces to launch "share circles," a worker participation program modeled after Japanese Quality Control Circles.

AN UPHILL STRUGGLE. Plants that are losing money are even more difficult to convert successfully to worker ownership.

Some research suggests that workers sharing in ownership leads to higher productivity. However, worker owners can hardly assume that their unprofitable company will be saved just by letting this tendency work its magic.

For this type of uphill struggle, Rath Packing Company may become the landmark case.

For a decade, this Waterloo, Iowa firm of nearly 3,000 workers had verged on bankruptcy.

Led by Lyle Taylor, president, and Charles Mueller, chief steward of Local 46, United Food and Commercial Workers Union, workers decided to save their jobs by buying a controlling interest in the company.

While they were completing arrangements, they agreed to put money from previously bargained benefits into an account to establish the capital base of the company when the new board took over.

They also agreed to a 20-percent payroll deduction for over two years to buy the necessary stock.

A $4.6 million Urban Development Action grant to Waterloo, which then loaned the money to Rath, completed the package.

In 1980, Rath launched a comprehensive program of labor-management cooperative problem-solving.

The survival of the company is by no means assured. But there is a growing conviction that Rath's future depends upon workers, union leaders, and managers working together far more effectively than in the past.

FUTURE TRENDS.

Worker ownership is likely to grow substantially, partly as a result of government action.

Legislation passed by Congress in 1974 supporting the creation of Employee Stock Ownership Trusts has been an important stimulus.

The law is being used to help employees purchase stock in thousands of firms, and to help them secure majority ownership in a smaller number of plants that would otherwise close.

The Small Business Employee Ownership Act, passed in 1980, directs the Small Business Administration (SBA) to assist newly created or converted employee-owned firms with loans, loan guarantees, and technical assistance.

In addition, the 97th Congress is considering encouragement of employee ownership as one way to preserve viable small business when the owner-manager retires or dies.

Though the issue has not been finally resolved, the dramatic effort of the employees of Continental Airlines—to staff off a takeover of their company through establishing a majority employee ownership—may have widespread repercussions.

The case suggests that establishment of an Employee Stock Ownership Plan (ESOP) well in advance of the takeover threat can make hostile takeovers substantially more difficult.

The case also suggests a new thrust in collective bargaining, along the following lines.

The company demands that workers take a pay cut to save the firm from bankruptcy. Union leaders respond, "If we accept your proposal, how much stock will the workers get in return?"

If management is willing to negotiate on this basis, union leaders then go on to discuss worker participation in decision-making from the shop floor to the board of directors.

In counteracting management demands for a pay cut, officials of the Pan-American Airlines Pilot Association have already taken the first steps in this new style of negotiation.

And it was the example of the Continental Employee Association that gave them the idea.

Mendota man

NFO chairman

Kenneth Stremelau of Mendota was re-elected chairman of Illinois National Farmers Organization at the reorganizational meeting held at the Bonanza Siroin Pit in Springfield, Ill. Other officers re-elected were: Ray Olson, Lynn Center, vice chairman; Ray Clark, Odell, secretary; and Hilmer Mueller, Jacob, treasurer.

Chairman Stremelau appointed Dale Nass, Plymouth, administrative assistant and Wyonna Clark, Odell, publicity chairman.

Chairman Stremelau reported on the many meetings he attended throughout the year. He said, "All are aware of the many problems that remain the same year after year. Yet it seems the people attending fail to talk about the real problem, which is price. Who will pay us a fair price unless we as producers demand it?"

MINK IS GUEST. The mass communications alumni of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will meet Tuesday, Feb. 16, at the Media Club, 720 Olive St., St. Louis. Eric Mink, television critic for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, will be a special guest. The meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. with a cash bar. Mink is scheduled to speak about 7 p.m. Mike Paladin, president of the mass communications alumni, is inviting all SIUE alumni and friends to attend.

Chouteau seeks solution to water problems in area

Residents of University Drive, two blocks south of Chain of Rocks Road in Mitchell, attended a meeting of Chouteau Town Board of Trustees Monday night, to present their water drainage problem and seek a solution before the snow begins to melt.

Between 25 and 30 homeowners said the water problem was very bad following the downpour on Saturday, Jan. 30, and with the frozen ground and snowfall, some residents cannot reach their homes, as water and ice covers the roadway, particularly in the Greenway and University Drive area.

The residents said that they are using a small sump pump in an effort to remove enough of the water to reach their homes, but the pump is apparently too small for the project.

Highway Commissioner Wilfred "Bud" Eberhardt agreed to secure a larger pump, which the residents will man, as a temporary solution to the problem. Eberhardt said there is little he can do until spring, when he can get equipment into the subdivision.

Eberhardt addressed the town board noting indicating that the township will need to hire engineers to survey the area and submit an informational report on how to rid the area of the standing water. This project will involve the state, county and township, the highway commissioner added.

He explained that the subdivision did not have the problem until Interstate 270 was constructed. Since then, the water flow has been unable to follow the drainage ditches and clear the area.

Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks presided at the meeting and after the discussion with the homeowners, the board continued with routine business matters. They read and approved all bill lists submitted.

CROP QUOTAS

President Roosevelt on Feb. 16, 1938, signed the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, which provided for restrictions on acreage, quotas for crops, storage of surpluses, and payments to assure parity.
